FOREST LAWN MEMORIAL PARK ASSOCIATION WILL SPEND HALF MILLION MAKING IMPROVEMENTS

Expenditure Authorized By Directors; Elaborate Program Of Beautification Outlined; Work Already Started At Grounds Here

A half million on improvements! This is the announcement made to The Glendale Evening News by Hubert L. Eaton, manager of the Forest Lawn Memorial Park association, regarding the development plans recently adopted by the board of directors of the corporation. The various proposed enhancements, which are to be effected in the immediate future, may be listed as follows:

Unit to Mausoleum, $225,000.
Masonic Memorial, $75,000.
Knights of Pythias Memorial, $50,000.
Office building, $35,000.
Horticultural building and equipment, $25,000.
Sentinel Hill for Easter sunrise services, $15,000.
Duck pool and entrance alterations, $5,000.

Additional beautifications, including Babyland, statues, widening of driveways, installation of dove houses, etc., $75,000.

If the present plans are rushed through in accordance with Mr. Eaton's statements, the majority of the list of improvements given here will be completed within ninety days. Workmen are already busy on several of the projects, all of which will be under way shortly after August 1.

This improvement campaign is but a part of the entire program which has been mapped out by the heads of the association, it is stated.

"We are doing something that no other cemetery in the country has ever attempted," said Mr. Eaton, as he looked up from his maps and blueprints. "In all history nature has made death the most beautiful episode of mortal's careers, when men have made it the most gruesome. We are going to stick by old Dame Nature, and make Forest Lawn one of the real beauty spots of Southern California."

Vote Budget of $1,000,000

At a recent meeting of the board of directors of the corporation that body voted to turn over a budget of $1,000,000 to Mr. Eaton to be spent in decorative improvements on the Memorial park within the next three years. Tentative plans are already being considered for the further betterment of the cemetery's appearance, and which are to be made more complete following the installation of the first series of adornment, it is explained.

T. Patterson Ross, who is known throughout the country as the world's foremost authority on memorial architecture, is the association's architect, and will arrive in this city on August 1 to supervise the construction of the various buildings. Mr. Ross is the designer of the several buildings already erected at the park and the same plan from which they were patterned will be carried out in the new edifices.

By far the largest and most elaborately decorated and designed of the proposed improvements will be the second or middle unit of the million dollar mausoleum, which will be completed within the next few years. Work on this unit has been in progress for several weeks and will be finished in the near future. The stately sepulchral monument will be a massive structure, composed principally of marble. Beautiful and in comparable lighting effects will be evident at all parts of the day, as the entire ceiling is composed of elegant art glass. A large stained glass window is to be installed at the left extremity of the long hallway.

Elaborate Office Building
The office building, which will be built in the style of an old English manse, is to be located directly opposite the present Little Church of the Flowers.

It will be a spacious two-story affair, composed of reception rooms, offices and statistical rooms. One of its principal features will be the fact that each of the various clerical and book-keeping employees will be allotted separate rooms in which to discharge their duties. Upon the completion of the office building the main business office, which is now located in Los Angeles, will be moved (Continued on Page 15.)

NEW OFFICERS OF LODGE INSTALLED

Odd Fellows Hold Gathering With Number of Guests to Help Ceremonies

A real rousing good time and enthusiastic meeting of the I. O. O. F. lodge No. 333 took place last night when the new officers for the ensuing year were installed by District Deputy Grand Master C. E. King of San Fernando, as follows: G. L. Murdock, noble grand, to succeed R. M. McGee; Alfred Baines, vice-grand, to succeed G. L. Murdock; M. E. Brown, secretary, to succeed himself; P. S. Jackson, treasurer, to succeed C. R. Lund.

There were over seventy-five present, including members from Burbank, San Fernando, Van Nuys and Glendale. A sumptuous banquet was put on by the Malcolm and Flinger duo, which brought forth much praise on the part of their brothers.

Addresses Are Made

During the evening speeches were made by the retiring officers, officers installed and visitors. Plans were discussed for a campaign to be conducted during the year, whereby each member is to endeavor to secure one new member.

Next Thursday the members of the Glendale lodge are expected to go to Burbank, where the new officers of that lodge will be installed.

VACATION JOURNEY BY AUTO ENJOYED

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Schuyler of 330 Ivy Street Return From Month's Outing

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Schuyler of 330 Ivy street have many interesting experiences to relate concerning their month's vacation in the Yosemite valley and Lake county.

The two machines in which their party traveled carried Mr. and Mrs. Schuyler, their four children Ernest, Lois, Edith and Hoyt, Herbert Brown of Los Angeles and Miss Besie Wadley of Tucson, Arizona. They left June 21 and went over the ridge route through Bakersfield to Fresno and on to the Yosemite. They saw plenty of snow on the way and on the trail to Glacier Point surprised a flock of deer feeding in the meadows and later a big brown cinnamon bear.

Various Trips Enjoyed

While in the Yosemite they met the C. E. Hutchinsons, who are camping there and enjoyed several side trips with them. From the Yosemite they went on to the ranch of Mrs. Schuyler's brother, A. H. Hoyt, who owns a large pear orchard in Lake county, the famous county into which no railroad has ever trespassed. The two weeks spent on the ranch was perhaps the most pleasant part of their trip. This is the sixth summer the Schuylers have visited Mr. Hoyt.

The return trip was made by way of the coast, the party camping along the beach and enjoying the beauties of Santa Rosa, Monterey and the southern beaches. They are already making plans for their trip next year, but do not believe it could rival this one as far as pleasure is concerned.

ATTEMPTS TO SLAY SISTER-IN-LAW, MISSES, JAILED

Andrew Romero Fires Shots In Relative's Direction, Is Charge Against Him

"Marie, I am going away and you will never see me again," Andrew Romero is reported to have told his sister-in-law, Mrs. Marie Moreno Romero.

According to the latter's story, she put her hand forward for a farewell clasp when Andrew added: "I pay you now for how you treat my brother."

With this he drew a revolver and fired at her, she says.

Mrs. Romero dodged, ducked and otherwise evaded the leaden pellets until her husband, Tony, rushed from the front of their home at 215 South Kenilworth avenue. He disarmed his brother who had made preparations to move away from the place.

Now He's In Jail

The shooting affray occurred at 8:30 o'clock. Captain Thomas McGuire and Patrolmen D. Williams and G. Wells rushed to the scene, bundled the participants into a car and on their arrival at the city hall police station they found Police Judge F. H. Lowe awaiting them.

By 9 o'clock Romero had pleaded guilty to the charge of attempting to commit murder and was held on $5000 bail. This morning he was removed to the Los Angeles county jail.

It is to be expected that he "will never see Marie again" if he is convicted.

Japanese Returning to Turlock District Again

TURLOCK, Calif., July 22.—Instead of driving the Japanese out of the Turlock district, the itinerant fruit workers have apparently had the order reversed.

The white melon pickers who have been in Turlock in large numbers, today began moving out in twos and threes. Only a few of those who were sitting around in the square several days ago waiting for work were to be seen here today.

On the other hand practically all of the deported Japanese have returned and have gone back to work and large numbers of those who were under contract to come here to work have arrived. Many of the cantaloupe growers are refusing to hire the men who expected to get the jobs
when the Japanese were driven out and are taking losses while waiting for sufficient Japanese labor to return.

Many of the growers declare they will go out of the cantaloupe business and next year will put in a different crop.

Martin Falquise, a local boy whose family is well known here, was under arrest today. The authorities charge him with having driven one of the trucks in which the Japanese were deported to Noyes. Although questioned in regard to the affair, he steadfastly refused to talk or give any details of the deportations.

Charles Sproul and B. W. Pierce, arrested on a charge of having participated in the affair, were released today by the authorities, who stated that both men had furnished good alibis.

The Japanese were on the streets today in as large numbers as they were before the trouble and appeared unconcerned. The white population of the district is still nervous as to the outcome of the affair.

Turlock merchants were seriously alarmed at the attitude of the growers in taking losses rather than employ white labor, as the prosperity of Turlock depends on crop conditions in the district.

A curious insect of the Malay Peninsula was recently discovered by a member of the London Zoological society. It is called the lantern-fly and is remarkable for its sudden leaps, made by a curious projection on the front of its head, a kind of creased nose which, when bent back under the abdomen and suddenly released sends the insect flying.

While Glendale is affected by the ordinance passed by the county board of supervisors making it a criminal offense to carry garbage of cities over county highways to hog

Watson says that he believes the sitsary to annex a strip of ground in order to contravert the county's regulatory measure.

five-room bungalow for James Mc-Dow in Fairmont street just west of turing soap at Burbank. This place is located at 519 Burchett street.

of getting under "one's own roof."

Villages Worse Than Primrose Broadway

By PAUL R. MALLON
United Press Staff Correspondent

MONTICELLO, N. Y., July 22.—
"It is the sneaky, low-down, backdoor, gossip, lonely country road wickedness of the village that sucks more souls to hell than Broadway's primrose path," Mrs. Lucy Ostrom, mother-in-law in the Monticello marital tangle, told the United Press today.

"Earl was a good boy until he got scouting around the country roads in a flivver," she said, referring to her son-in-law, Earl Van Noy, who eloped with Mrs. Clark Durea, wife of the Holiness preacher.

"The villages are not what they used to be in my day—what with automobiles, home brew and even cabarets. It's enough to ruin any young man."

"They gilded up the walls on the second floor over Morrison's butcher shop and imported a couple of singers from New York with a jazz band.
They dance there until 11:30 some nights, keeping all the people in the neighborhood up. People go out in machines and then stop there to dance. If that was all, it wouldn't be so bad, but they drive along these moonlit country roads to cool off after dancing."

"In the city, a man has to work to keep going, but in the small town he's got plenty of time to figure out some devilment. And if he's got a car he can usually figure it out."

"If I ever have a son I'm going to raise him in the city where it costs a hundred dollars for the same wickedness you can get in a small town for a gallon of gasoline."

Officers Seize Decoy and Miss Real Opium

LOS ANGELES, July 22.—Federal narcotic agents seized what they believed to be $100,000 worth of opium—the largest single shipment ever reported in southern California
—here today.

The cans were labeled, soldered and filled. But it transpired that they were filled with crude oil, and not opium.

With the decoy shipment intercepted, the real opium has slipped through and been delivered. Operatives C. W. Montgomery and Edward Oscola admitted.

The detectives left for San Diego
to trace the source of both the decoy and true shipments, alleged to have been sent from that city.

CHICAGO BUSINESS MAN HAS PRAISE FOR GLENDAL

William J. Bryan, Not of Grape Juice Fame, Enthusiastic
Over This Community

William J. Bryan—no, not the grape juice orator—is in Glendale, and glad to be here.

Mr. Bryan is a special salesman for the Apex vacuum cleaner at the Jewel Electric company, 200-202
East Broadway. In addition to talking about the machine which he represents, he has something to say about Glendale.

"In all of my travels out of Chicago, including many of the newer western towns, I have found none that compare with this city. Its broad streets, model business section and fine homes cannot be duplicated.
And the people here are all of a refined class."

"In the work of demonstrating the Apex vacuum cleaners I have access to many homes in each community and it doesn't take long to determine the type of people one has to deal with, and here I find them educated, receptive to argument and well able to buy meritorious goods."

Glendale B. P. O. E.

"The spirit of this city was demonstrated to me prior to coming here by your representations in the Elks parades. While watching the different divisions pass by it was noticeable that as the Glendale band or contingent or float came into view everyone of the visitors and Angelenos would comment:
"Here comes Glendale, the fastest growing city in America," or some similar remark which emphasizes my belief that it is the best place on earth today."

S. W. Wood, former president of

ISLAND ONLY FOR WOMEN

innumerable small islands in the Carhabited only by women.

Twelve homing pigeons were re-

the longest flights of its kind ever attempted.

Long Skirts, Clear to Ankles, Coming Style

By DALE VAN EVERY
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, July 22.—The day of the short skirt is finished. Before autumn it will be replaced by the long skirt, a really long one, reaching clear to the ankles.

This alarming, or comforting prediction—depending on the viewpoint —was made today to the United Press by Mrs. Lydia Hoyt, famed as the most beautiful woman in New York society, who has just returned from Paris.

"The short skirt has already disappeared in Paris among the really smart," said Mrs. Hoyt. "They're wearing them full ankle length."
"The new skirts are now especially full, though I believe there will be more of a flare to them by fall; at present the only decided change is in the length."

"I expect that the short skirt will disappear in the United States very soon, too, before the end of the summer even."

To the next question, implied rather than openly asked, Mrs. Hoyt hesitated before replying:
"I imagine it's safe to say there were no signs that the corset is 'coming back.'"

Germany now has four air routes out of Berlin. The longest of these are the Berlin-Dortmund and the Berlin-Koenigsberg routes, each about three hundred miles in length.
Other lines are Berlin-Bremen and Berlin-Dresden lines.

Baseball Takes Slump, So Figures Indicate

NEW YORK, July 22.—Baseball owners deny the national pastime is in a slump.

Attendance at the Polo grounds,
however, which is a fairly good pulse for the other yards around the two circuits, has fallen off noticeably in the last six weeks.

New York owners hasten to claim the figures for the season compare favorably with the record marks of 1920, but this is due in part to the great outpouring of the fans during the early months.

Pittsburg and the Boston Braves are escaping the slumps because of the great showing of both clubs.

Owners of the St. Louis and Chicago clubs report normal attendance, it being said that the Cubs are paying dividends for the first time in several years.</

ADDITIONAL LIGHTS FOR PALMER AND ADAMS SECTION

City Manager Makes Report to Council; Statement on Sewer Pipe Bids

Regarding the petition of residents and property holders for street lights to be placed in the vicinity of the intersection of Palmer and Adams, referred to him on July 18, T. W. Watson, city manager, reported to the city council last night as follows:

"Additional lights in this vicinity have been anticipated and provided for in tentative budget for present fiscal year. One light will be installed at angle on Adams street just north of Palmer avenue and one at intersection of Palmer avenue and Adams street; also another at the far end of Adams street as requested by petitioners. It is not advisable to install many more street lights until additional circuit regulator is provided for. This also has been provided for in the tentative budget and will be purchased and installed immediately after authority therefor has been obtained by the adoption of the annual budget."

Bids on Sewer Pipe

The city manager reported to the city council last night as follows in regard to specifications for sewer pipe referred to in his report of July 14 in regard to plans for sewage disposal in business district:

"We have obtained through the city engineer's office bids on sewer pipe which we submit herewith for your consideration. We find that the policy pursued by the city of Los Angeles in this respect is as follows:

"The city engineer obtains bids from several firms furnishing sewer pipe that complies with engineer's specifications and the lowest and best bid is accepted and the kind of pipe specified in such bid is included in improvement specifications. We understand that either concrete or vitrified pipe that complies with engineer's specifications is acceptable to the engineering department of Los Angeles and that both kinds of pipe are now being used. Frank Olmsted of the firm of Olmsted & Gillen states that they have no preference as between concrete and vitrified sewer pipe for this particular job."

City Will Pay Taxes

Favorable action was taken by the city council last night on the following recommendation from the city manager:

"Pursuant to action taken by the board of trustees on June 16, 1921, accepting the bid of G. A. Rapp to purchase for the sum of $600 the west forty-six and four-tenths feet of lot 9, Hackman and Lennox tract, from the city of Glendale, a certificate of title was ordered and deed prepared in accordance therewith which are herewith presented for your approval. The cost of certificate of title is $10.

"Inasmuch as the city will have possession of a portion of the lot until the nursery trees thereon can be removed this fall, I would recommend that the first half of the taxes for the current year be paid by the city of Glendale."

Arguments In Behalf of Accused Governor

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 22.—"The king can do no wrong," was the basis of the plea made by attorneys for Len Small, governor of Illinois, in Sangamon county circuit court today. Their argument was made in an effort to convince the court that the chief executive did not have to submit to arrest and trial on indictments charging him with stealing millions of dollars of state money while serving as state treasurer.

Judge E. B. Smith, at the conclusion of the answer to the governor's claim by State's Attorney Mortimer, was expected to rule immediately on whether the governor was above all power of the courts, or whether the executive must submit to the court decrees the same as any other person.

In case the court upheld Small's contention, the governor cannot be brought to trial until his term expires in 1924.

If the stand taken by Small is declared illegal, warrants will be handed to Sheriff Henry Mester and arrest of the governor will be ordered. The governor may continue his attitude of defiance and call on state troops to prevent the sheriff's deputies from serving the warrants.

Legal advisers of the executive informed the court that the constitution forbids that he submit to arrest. To do so they pointed out, would be a surrender of sovereignty of the executive branch of the government.

The attorneys declared it would be ridiculous to try the governor for a crime and convict him when he would have the power to pardon himself.

TO SUPPRESS THEFTS

Because of the growing number of thefts of automobiles throughout the country, an important meeting was called recently in New York City by engineers, police authorities, insurance companies and automobile manufacturers.

La Crescenta Notes

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. McGroarty and their house guest, Mrs. E. Porter, were the motif for a delightful alfresco supper given by Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Thomas at their ranch, "Poco Mas Arriva," last Thursday. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Bissell and Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Hartranft. Mr. and Mrs. McGroarty are leaving shortly for a trip to Europe. They will visit the home of Mr. McGroarty's ancestors in Ireland, also France and Spain.

C. E. Culberson, secretary of the LaCrescenta Improvement association, reports the Southern California Edison company will put in the street lights in the next thirty days. The lights are to be placed on Michigan, Los Angeles and Honolulu avenues.

The LaCrescenta Presbyterian church is enjoying a season of encouragement, not only in attendance but in the number of new members. Rev. Kelso is trying to make this a community church and is in a campaign to raise money to finish paying for an acre lot on Montrose avenue, which will be the future home of the church. The morning services will be held in the church on Michigan avenue and the evening services in Glenrose park.

The American Legion dance, given at the school auditorium last Saturday night, was one of the enjoyable events of last week. The American Legion orchestra furnished the music.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Phillips and little daughter of Montrose are leaving for Long Beach Saturday for a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Anderson of Montrose entertained with a charmingly-appointed tea last Sunday. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Kickey, Miss Harriet Barston and their house guest, Frank S. Anderson of Chicago.

Mrs. S. B. Young and son, Walt Young, are at Ocean Park for July and August.

C. E. Culberson, F. K. Czerniski, Mrs. E. N. Nettleton and Dean Culberson are week-end visitors at Catalina.

The garden fete at Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Bissell's home, "Hi-Up" ranch, to be held Saturday, July 30, will be one of the biggest events of the summer. The proceeds will go for the building fund of the LaCrescenta Woman's club and the care of the French orphan adopted by the club. "Hi-Up" ranch is located at the end of Los Angeles avenue, one of the highest points and most beautiful spots of the valley. There will be the usual array of garden fete articles to be sold—from a balloon to an ice-cream cone; a waffle booth, a roulette wheel and a Hawaiian band will be some of the attractive features of the affair. Mrs. Bissell will be assisted by all the members of the woman's club and a number of the young girls, among these Misses Eunice Bissell, Jessie S. Conlin, Janet Culberson, Loraine Czerniski, Katherine Virgie and Victoria Bertrand and Dorothy Foster.

Mr. and Mrs. George Pardee were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Thomas last Sunday.

Miss Florence Bruce has her cousin, Miss Winona Briggs of Los Angeles, as house guest. A wienie roast at Glenrose park was one of the affairs given for Miss Briggs last Wednesday evening. Among the guests were Misses Edith Bush, Louise Sanders, Sybil Grims and Rob Hendrix, Francis Foy, Vern Rose, Ernest Erhardt, Donald Hendrix and Mrs. E. Bush.

E. Skoles of Chicago is visiting his daughter at the LaCrescenta hotel.

Mrs. E. Reager of Piedmont avenue was hostess to the neighborhood sewing club last Thursday.

Efficient work on the part of the Glendale fire department stopped what promised to be a serious fire last night at 8:30 o'clock when the Moreland truck, owned and driven by J. W. Sunkes of 801½ North Central avenue, spurted flames at the corner of Louise street and Broadway.

Mr. Sunkes was getting a supply of gasoline at the Security Service station when the gas hose slipped and the volatile fluid poured down on the red-hot exhaust pipe. What happened until the fire department arrived from two doors away needs only the imagination to describe. The top, floor and cushions of the truck were destroyed and the windshield broken—all of which is covered by insurance.

Watching Scoreboard

Yesterday's hero—Bob Falk, a rookie from Texas college. He hit a homer in the fourteenth inning and gave Red Faber his twentieth victory of the season. The White Sox beat the Athletics 2 to 1.

The Indians went back into first place in the American league by murdering the Yanks 17 to 8. The Indians got 22 hits off four Yank pitchers. Ruth went out in the fifth with a bad ankle.

The Phils did the noble by winning their second straight game of the season, beating the Cubs 8 to 1. Burleigh Grimes pitched his second game in succession and the Red Sox beat the Cards 2 to 1 in eleven innings.

The Browns made it eight in a row when they trimmed the Red Sox 3 to 1. Sisler got two triples and a single.

Washington got only four hits off Dildham and the Tigers won 7 to 2. San Francisco again took advantage of Portland's desire to win the Coast league booby prize by administering a defeat to the tune of 11 to 7. Russ Ellison, Beaver recruit hurler, from the University of California, had speed but no control and in two and one-third innings the Seals got to him for ten runs.

Smith of Vernon and Ryan of Sacramento both swatted out homers in the game between the two teams yesterday. The Senators won 7 to 5. Dell threw the game away for Vernon. After he was yanked out of the box Cross, a recruit, pitched a splendid brand of ball.

Three home runs, Siglin, Sand and Jenkins being responsible, featured the game between Salt Lake and Oakland. The game was won 10 to 9 by Salt Lake in an eighth and ninth inning batting rally. Siglin and Sand, the first two batters up, both got their homers off Kremer.

Stump's wild throw was the only error in the Los Angeles-Seattle game. It gave the Angels the only run in the game and they defeated Seattle 1 to 0.

'MAN HATING' LOCAL GIRL DISAPPEARS TO 'ADVENTURE'

Marjorie Brown, 15, Departs
With Chum, Leaving Note
Explaining Actions

"Please keep it out of the papers." That was the only request of Marjorie Brown, aged 15, five feet five inches tall, weighing 107 pounds, with blue eyes and brown curly hair, who ran away yesterday after visiting at the home of her companion in disappearance, Gertrude, Thompson of Palms.

The mysterious Miss Brown is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Brown, 223 Salem street, Glendale. She is a pupil at Glendale Union High school. Both girls came from Boston with their parents and got used to roughing it as the families camped out on the way.

Say They're Man Haters

Here is one of the notes they left behind, while the parents are forwarding photographs and descriptions to the police throughout the west:

"Dear Folks, Marjorie and I have decided we need adventure, away from everyone. We want to show everyone girls have just as much grit as boys. Don't try to find us, as we will only do it again. We have gone back east. Who knows? Don't blame all of it on either of us, as we are both responsible. Don't worry. We are fully able to take care of ourselves. Don't worry about men. We are both man haters. Don't think we don't love you, for we adore you all. Love, GERTRUDE."

"P. S.—If you love us don't try to find us and don't spend money for us. We are not worth it. We are safe. Give my clothes to Helen and I guess you will have a better time without us. Love, GERTRUDE."

Famous Regiment of France Now Dissolved

PARIS—One of the most picturesque regiments of the French army, the Second Hussars, has just had its disbandment ordered by the war ministry. It must, according to the order, be absolutely dissolved.

The regiment was first known as the Chamborant Hussars, named for its commander in 1761, the Marquis of Chamborant. In those days the troopers wore fine high shakoes like the West Point cadets, great furry affairs floating on their shoulders, and chestnut brown dolmans. Garbed in that operatic regalia, they fought through all the wars of the revolution and those of Napoleon. One of their exploits was to relieve the Dutch fleet which had been ice-bound at Texel.

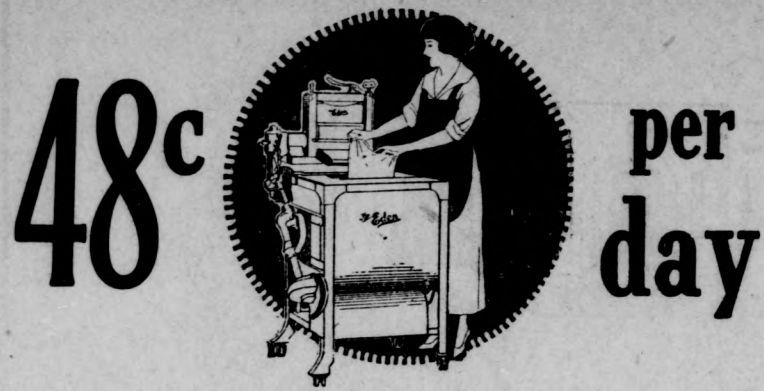

The Second also fought under the third Napoleon at Solferino, and at Mars-la-Tour against the Germans in 1871. And it served all through the great war—in simple horizon blue, instead of in the gaudy regalia of former days. Before Ally-sur-Noye in 1918 the Second left 75 per cent of its effectives on the field of battle.

The French press and public is practically unanimous in declaring that with the passing of the Second Hussars, quite a little of the martial glory of France will pass away as well.

GLENDALE COMPANY CLIMBS HIGH IN CAMP CONTESTS

Fine Record Is Being Made by Troops at Yosemite; May Leave Friday

By SALVADOR FELIX
Member of Glendale's Company at National Guard Camp, Now in Yosemite Valley.

We certainly notice a great difference in the drills we have now and those we had when we first came to Yosemite. At first, most of us not being accustomed to the high altitude and strenuous drilling, we felt sick and worn out by nightfall, but now that we are adjusted to the life we feel fine.

The drills now consist of the extended formations for battle, bayonet fighting, different ways of protection, etc. Saturday we had a field inspection by the commanding officer of the camp, Lieutenant Colonel Colburn. Inspection was made of the equipment which is necessary on the battlefield.

Fishing on Furlough

All branches of the 159th, 160th battalion Signal Corps and other small branches which have arrived were marched to the drill grounds, inspected and then recalled to camp. After inspection we were off duty till Sunday at 7 o'clock p. m. The furlough was very welcome and most of the men left camp on sightseeing or fishing trips.

Our company is making a good showing in everything and if at first it does not succeed in making a top grade we all get together and correct our faults and try again.

As I said in my previous letter, we got third place in percentage grade, so now we rank as the highest, succeeding after a "try, try again," trial.

Bill Strong, Francis Bacon and myself went out on a little climbing expedition Sunday with our goal the top of the Yosemite Falls, considered the highest falls in the world and I believe it is, after going part way up. We had to turn back before we got half way up as we did not follow a trail and found the cliffs too steep.

Signals for Help

When we got back from our trip we found everybody excitedly watching one of the peaks near camp and soon saw that one of our fellows had been on a little expedition, too, and in some way had fallen down the steep cliff and by some good chance caught himself on a little ledge. He was unable to get up or down and all he could do was to give signal for help. A detail was sent at once from camp, Captain Watson and Lieutenant Hayhurst heading the rescuing parties, assisted by some rangers and a delegation from the Signal Corps.

It took them until 4 o'clock the next morning to reach him with ropes and drag him to safety and he sure had a narrow shave. He is a lieutenant of Company B and an ex-soldier, so, of course, he joked about it as though nothing serious had happened.

As far as we can tell now, we will probably leave here Friday morning and get home Saturday night and I guess all the boys will be glad to get home, even though they have enjoyed the outing.

This Man Is Honest, so Honest It 'Hurts'

EUGENE, Ore.—James H. Sturgis was so honest that it hurt.

While Sturgis was in Seattle a big haystack on his ranch burned down. He did not know about it until his return, when he got the information in a peculiar manner.

Shortly after he got back in town, and before he went out to his ranch, the telephone rang for him at the hotel.

"I understand you have some hay for sale," said a voice.

"No," replied Sturgis, "the hay is not very good and I would not want to sell it to anyone as first-class feed hay."

"You're positive that you don't want to sell it, and that the hay is of very poor quality?" queried the voice.

"Certainly," replied Sturgis. "It's old hay and poor quality."

"All right," replied the voice. "Thanks for the information. My name's Carr and I'm an insurance adjuster. Your haystack burned down yesterday."

"If that's their game," Sturgis said laughingly to a bystander, "I hold a few cards myself. My insurance gives the width and length of the stack, but not a soul on earth besides myself knows how high it was, so I may beat them at their own game yet, if I decide to push it."

The Australian Commonwealth government has offered a reward of 25,000 pounds for oil in payable quantities and the New South Wales government has offered 10,000 pounds for oil. Despite the fact that in many sections of the country oil is actually trickling from the earth at the rate of two or three gallons a week, government engineers have been unable to find oil in commercial quantities.

In Southern California

"Goods" to Be Displayed

Advertising now being produced in forty-one newspapers of the southwest by the All-Year club of Los Angeles is to be printed in 5000 circulars to show the populace what is being done to bring people from the warmer climes to balmy southern California.

Unusual—for Movie Actress

Agnes Ayres, film star, has been divorced from her husband, Capt. Frank Shucker, who is said to be in France. The couple were wed three years ago, it was revealed in court Wednesday. Miss Ayres won a temporary decree without any publicity or alimony, for that matter, which entitles her to distinction among film actresses.

Plans for Glendale Suburb

City Manager C. W. Koerner of Pasadena is advocating a city planning commission for that city which will make provision for a beautiful crown town 100 years from now. By that time it will be only a suburb of Glendale.

Agrees to Meet Expenses

The Civic Betterment League, otherwise known as the Blusheviki of Pomona, has agreed to pay the expenses of an appeal by that city against the decision of Judge Charles S. Burnell that the Sunday closing laws there are unconstitutional. The judge made the point that such legislation was discriminating between churches and theatres.

Heavy Heart Balm Sought

One hundred thousand dollars "heart balm" is demanded of Luther S. Foss, oil king and bridegroom of a week, by Emma K. Engleke, beautiful stenographer, in a breach of promise action instituted in Los Angeles courts.

Foss, multimillionaire head of the Paramount Petroleum company, was married July 12 to Miss Frances Hamilton. Miss Engleke's complaint alleges that on February 15, 1920, he had proposed to her, and that she accepted him.

Foss is well known for large-scale operations in land and oil in Preston, Idaho; Ogden, Utah, and San Antonio and El Paso, Texas.

General Strike Not Yet

The "movie strike" appeared to be at a standstill today.

The threatened general strike had not materialized, although labor leaders asserted that unless producers canceled the recent wage-cut order, all union technicians would be called from the studios by the end of the week.

The Hal E. Roach studios remained closed today. The various companies at the Fox studios devoted their time to exterior scenes. At Metro, enough mechanics were secured to light two sets on the studio stages, and production was resumed despite Monday's walkout of mechanics.

Small Towns Develop Good 'Musical Taste'

CHICAGO—America's "main street" towns may depend largely on phonographs, but gosh how they love good music when they can get it.

This is the unanimous report of delegates to the national concert managers' convention here.

Where the old-time burlesque show used to be the big event of the season, it is reported, the villagers will now only turn out for a real fiddler or singer. In other words, the bush league fans demand class, and the best of it, too.

The movies haven't hurt the concert trade, the managers say; they have only side-tracked the cheap attractions.

Small towns have developed musical taste, and can't be fooled by a foreign name, and a musical wig any more.

"All the people ask," says Miss Elizabeth Cuney, secretary of the association, "is 'can he fiddle?' or 'can she sing?' Maggie Murphy, if she happens to have talent, can appear under her own name and still get by."

Small cities will pay as much as the large ones for the highest class concert stars, it is stated. And unknown celebrities find the country circuits hard going. If a singer fails in New York, he is not likely to find appreciation elsewhere, nowadays.

Dies Result of Excitement

Deputy Marshal John Inman died at Huntington Beach from excitement induced at a boxing match, in which his son was proclaimed winner.

Jack Inman, the son, defeated Jack Moore of Los Angeles in a four-round bout. His father fainted at the close of the match, and failed to regain consciousness throughout the night.

AMERICA LEADS IN CEMENT USE
Although Portland cement was patented by Mr. Aspdin, an English engineer, and reinforced concrete is credited to a Frenchman, America has made the most use of them. The manufacture of Portland cement has been brought to the highest state of perfection in this country, and our use of concrete now ranges from the watering trough to the Panama canal. Use of cement has made possible the impressive architectural effect of vast and lofty interiors unencumbered by piers and columns.

Secretary Mellon Tells of European Interest

By L. C. MARTIN
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, July 22.—

Whether the United States will forgive its European debtors the "interest on the interest" of the $10,000,000,000 loan by this government is a question upon which no decision has been reached. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon told this to the senate finance committee in resuming his testimony regarding the refunding of the debt.

He intimated that the United States, in agreement to defer for three years the collection of all interest on the debt might also have put itself under obligation not to charge any interest on the deferred interest.

Mellon gave the committee first inkling yet disclosed as to his general idea of the basis on which the debt should be refunded. "I would exchange present obligations which are nothing but I. O. U.'s for a uniform obligation covering the many separate loans. That would put the obligations into the best possible shape for collection."

The senate finance committee served notice on Secretary of the Treasury Mellon that until he has further studied the question of refunding the $10,000,000,000 owed to the United States by foreign governments, no action will be taken by congress on Mellon's request for unrestricted authority to make agreements with these governments for repayment of the loans and interest on them.

France's Super-Woman Will Battle Americans

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, July 22.—France

lost her superman when Georges Carpentier went down. She is now pinning her national pride on her super-woman, Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, the queen of the tennis courts.

Uncle Sam, to meet the invasion of one as superb in her line as Carpentier was supposed to be in his, has called back to the courts two of his greatest, Mrs. May Sutton Bundy and Miss Mary K. Browne.

The two great California women are here practicing daily to get in form to defend America's honors against an invader that records prove to be almost invincible.

Both Mrs. Bundy and Miss Browne contradict the popular theory that a woman must talk. Neither will say a word on what they are going to do in the national championships at Forest Mills, starting August 15, when they are to meet the "French girl."

Several officials of the United States lawn tennis association and many tennis fans watched Mrs. Bundy play at Forest Mills. They agree with the reports coming from the coast that she seemed close to the game of old that ranked her as one of the greatest women players.

MUSIC FROM THE HOLES

"What are you doing with that porous-plaster, Claude?"

Pickpockets in Chicago are protected by a highly organized trust, who hire criminal lawyers by the year to protect them, according to charges made by the chief of detectives. He states stringent laws in the east are driving the crooks to Chicago, and that it is almost impossible to secure conviction of a pickpocket because of the testimony of their lawyers and their "witnesses" and their ability to obtain bonds at once and escape being identified by their victims.

GREAT NATIONS GET IN READINESS TO HOLD PARLEYS

Number of Interests Will Be Brought Into Big Conference, Believed

By A. L. BRADFORD
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, July 22.—The great nations of the earth today were "clearing decks" for the Washington disarmament and Pacific conference. Within the last twenty-four hours there has been renewed confidence that Japan will give complete acceptance to coming into the parleys and the arrangements for the dates and discussions of a preliminary program are ready to proceed.

However, with the question of Japan's participation believed assured observers today were studying the many interests of the powers and how they rank in the conference. Japan's hesitancy made her the chief figure in this study.

Fearing that specific far eastern and Pacific problems will be brought up in the conference so as to threaten her position in Asia, Japan intends to settle, finally if possible before the opening of the parley, the principal outstanding questions between herself and other powers.

Compromise Offered
Japan is expected to make an advance to the Chinese government to arrange for the return to China of Shantung, and already she has presented to the United States a compromise plan of settlement of the Yap question. Japan has also sent an envoy to the Chita government of Siberia with conditions for the evacuation of Japanese military forces from Siberia and possibly Manchuria.

Other powers are expected to come into the Washington conference with the following interests foremost:
UNITED STATES: To secure a successful and effective agreement for limitation, and possibly reduction of armaments which will prove a guarantee of the peace of the world by first removing the principal causes of international friction, now mainly in the Pacific.

GREAT BRITAIN: To revise her relations with Japan, as exemplified in the Anglo-Japanese alliance to accord with the apparent desire of the peoples of Great Britain and her colonies for closer relations with the United States.

FRANCE: To trade, if possible, a limitation of her large armies for some agreement to secure her against attack by Germany.

ITALY: To continue the close co-operation which has grown up between her and United States in international dealings.

CHINA: To remove what the Celestial Empire regards as the "menace" of Japan to her interests.

ROMAN USE OF CONCRETE

The Roman's discoveries in concrete mixing made it possible for them to make prodigious strides in engineering and architecture. At the foot of Vesuvius were immense deposits of reddish sand or volcanic ash called pozzuolana, which, when added to lime mortar, made hydraulic cement. This gave to the Romans a concrete of extraordinary strength and permanence, which hardened under water as well as in the air, and became the basis of their entire system of building.

Officials Start Upon Probe of 'Deportation' of Turlock Japanese

TURLOCK, Calif., July 22.—A determined effort to apprehend the leaders and members of the band which deported sixty-eight Japanese here was being made today by Sheriff Dallas, who arrived in Turlock with seven of his deputies.

There will be no "white washing" of the affair, according to Sheriff Dallas. He is armed with five "John Doe" warrants for the arrest of the mob leaders, and more warrants were expected to be issued in Modesto today. The warrants were sworn to by the sheriff.

The sheriff and his deputies immediately upon their arrival began a rigid search for several men who, they said, are known to have instigated and taken part in the affair. A number of arrests were expected. A few of the Japanese who were deported returned to Turlock today and Sheriff Dallas said that a number of others who fled to Modesto had informed him that they were going to return. They will be afforded every protection, he said.

A joint investigation by town and state authorities will be begun, the mayor announced. The town was quiet today. The Japanese residents and lease holders who remain were going about their business as usual.

Governor Makes Statement
LOS ANGELES, July 22.—Governor William D. Stephens issued a statement condemning the Japanese deportations in the Turlock district.

"California is the leader among the states in the movement that is now nation-wide," the governor declared. "For the complete cessation of immigration to America of all peoples inalienable to citizenship."

"Rapid progress is being made, but every happening such as that at Turlock or Livingston materially injures our cause and sets us back tremendously."

The governor said that he had ordered the sheriffs of Merced and Stanislaus counties to investigate and make a complete report on all that happened in connection with the recent anti-Japanese demonstrations.

"I shall insist that the laws and treaty obligations be observed and that the Japanese now with us be protected in every moral and legal right due them as residents of California," his statement concluded.

Moonlight Auto Trip Is Taken by League

Moonlight auto trips and beach parties are always popular in southern California, and more especially appropriate are they for summer evenings such as are now being experienced. Members of the Epworth League of the Central Avenue Methodist Episcopal church and their friends enjoyed such a party Tuesday night, leaving Glendale for Hermosa Beach at 7:30 o'clock and returning about midnight. Supper was served around a large bonfire, which greatly added to the pleasure of the delightful evening.

Morgan, Miss Merrell Bowen, Miss Esther Besant, Miss Ella Dyckson, Miss Jewel Garner, Miss Velma Goss, Miss H. SUCH IS FAME

Presidents don't mean so much to people around them. For instance when Mr. Harding was just president-elect, he was motoring from Marion to Fremont, O., to keep an engagement. It was a raw day and when the car stopped on the road to find Frank Blackston, the chauffeur, fix a tire, the president-elect and Mrs. Harding got to talking about putting up the side curtains.

"We might put up this one," said Mr. Harding.

"Or," said Mrs. Harding, "we might put up this one."

The discussion continued quite amicably but without getting anywhere for several minutes, until Blackston finally spoke up from his place down by the wheels:

"Ah, put them both up and stop the argument."

Wallace Reid Is Attraction In 'Too Much Speed' for Today and Saturday

Automobile race enthusiasts will see some of the high spots of the big speed classic which was held at the famous new Beverly Hills speedway near Los Angeles on February 27, 1921, when they see Wallace Reid's Paramount picturization, "Too Much Speed," a story by Byron Morgan, which will be shown at the Palace Grand theatre today and tomorrow.

One of the big features of this picture is the race in which Wallace Reid in the role of Dusty Rhoades, is supposed to participate, and the big speed match referred to was used as a background for the story. Many of the most thrilling moments of the big race were filmed and will appear among the scenes of the picture.

Dusty Rhoades, a racing driver, gives up the game to wed Virginia, daughter of Pat MacMurrin, Pako manufacturer. Just before the wedding is to take place, however, Dusty accepts an open road challenge, ditches the machine in which Pat and he are riding and father calls off the match. After an unsuccessful attempt to elope with the girl, Dusty secretly buys Pat's discarded Pako racing car, enters the race, wins the speed match and a contract from a foreign buyer for Pako cars, and thus revives old Pat's consent for his marriage to Virginia.

Al St. John in "The Window Trimmer" is the special comedy attraction on the bill.

Two Under Arrest as Smugglers of Cocaine

NOGALES, Ariz., July 22.—Living in a miserable hovel, too poor to buy sufficient bread or food, yet possessing over $11,000 worth of cocaine, Jose Gil and Pedro Soblano were arrested by American customs inspectors. Seven pounds of the drug, valued at $100 an ounce, were confiscated.

With the savings of several years' labor, the Mexicans had purchased the cocaine in Nogales, Sonora, Mexico, at $35 an ounce, and smuggled it across the border.

They are alleged to have planned "running it" to Los Angeles, where, according to the customs operatives, the illicit drug market is offering $100 an ounce for the "little powers of forgetfulness."

Woodcraft Decides to Assess Every Member

PORTLAND, Ore., July 22.—Grand Circle, Neighbors of Woodcraft, voted to assess every member of the order 10 cents monthly to provide a general expense fund for the order's Riverside home, at Riverside, Cal.

This levy, it is said, will provide about $4,700 every month to defray overhead expense, cost of building material and meet other current expenses of the Woodcraft refuge.

All discussion relating to moving headquarters from Portland to Riverside has been kept from the floor of the convention. Officers think it unlikely that the matter will be taken up before adjournment.

In Wisconsin, concrete highways, 18 feet wide, are constructed at the rate of a mile a week.

JAZZ VACATION NOT FINDS FEW ALIENS SOUGHT FOR THIS YEAR'S OUTING FOR REGISTERING IN THIS CITY

Back to Simple Life for Most People, Is Opinion of Railroad Men Less Than 150 Are Listed Thus Far; Registration Closes on July 31

"Nothing but rest and quiet for me this year."

That is the sentiment of three-fourths of this season's vacationists, in the opinion of local railroad officials. It seems that the 1921 crop of pleasure travelers want to be hardy children of nature and not artificial greenhouse plants.

They want to camp out and fish, and are turning away from the "jazzy" rendezvous where the saxophone rules at night and breakfast is served in bed when the sun is high in the heavens. They are sallying forth in great droves to the quiet, wholesome retreats where the blarney of King Jazz is never heard.

That's what the railroad vacation ticket sellers say after half of the season is over. This year, they say, the girls are carrying frying pans instead of slipper bags, and the men are discarding silk shirts for khaki and wool.

It's Different This Year

"This year is entirely different than the past three or four seasons," said H. L. LeGrande, local agent for the Southern Pacific and Pacific Electric railways.

"Folks seem to want a quiet restful vacation somewhere in the open, where they can rough it or do anything they please. For the last two seasons everyone seemed to be heading for some lively and jazzy resort, where night life reigned supreme. That is the type of vacations that we expected this year, but they failed to arrive."

The reason for the sudden change in the attitude of the vacationists is attributed, as are most other conditions, to the war. Following the world conflict, it is claimed, everyone wanted to celebrate and "let down" from their several years of worry and tense moments.

Down to Real Work

"During the last year," remarked Mr. LeGrande, "this feeling has worn off. The public has gotten down to real hard work again, and this summer most of them are looking for a real vacation, with plenty of rest and fresh air."

In checking over the statistics of the railroad offices throughout California it is seen that travel eastward this year is 35 per cent better than that of last year. Also, traffic to Canada is reported as being the heaviest in history.

Glendale People Will Attend Illinois Picnic

Several hundred Glendale people are planning on attending the annual Illinois state picnic Saturday at Bixby park, Long Beach. The affair will be in charge of the Southern California Illinois state society, and that organization is planning on making it the biggest celebration in the history of the association. The 5,000 Illinoisans who are now residing in Long Beach have organized themselves into one large reception committee, and they promise to assure every member of the huge gathering a good time. Each picnic is requested to carry a basket lunch, which will be supplemented by hot coffee.

The principal speakers of the day will be: Governor Stephens and Mayor C. A. Buffam of Long Beach. Various other speeches and entertainment will be on the program.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Ellis of Chicago Visit Here

Mrs. Ellis is a noted pianist and student friend of Miss Gertrude Cleophas, they having spent five years together in Vienna, Austria, as pupils of the old Master Theodore Leschetizky.

Miss Cleophas, who has been teaching piano in Minneapolis, joined Mrs. Ellis five weeks ago for a tour of the northwest, including Glacier and Rainier National parks, Portland, Spokane, Seattle and San Francisco. En route they attended the Portland convention of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers, of which Mr. Ellis is a former president.

HEALTHY CALLING

Of eight English clergymen whose deaths were recorded in one week a short time ago, the ages aggregated 590 years, the oldest being ninety-two and the youngest fifty-seven, writes a correspondent. This high average of just under seventy-four years is either an uncommon record or attests the longevity of the "cloth."

As a tribute to American soldiers who fell in the Great War, a large wreath was officially placed in the American cemetery at Winchester, England, on Memorial Day.

MONTROSE RAILWAY DISCUSSES PLANS OF BETTERMENT

Continuation of Line From La Crescenta to Tujunga and Other Sections

Probably the hardest hit of any of the industries throughout the country on account of the prevailing high prices of recent years is the railroad business. This is the opinion of the officials of the Glendale & Montrose Railway company, expressed by them to a Glendale Evening News reporter this morning.

In discussing the proposed plans for the extending of the present Montrose & La Crescenta line, W. M. Mills, auditor of the concern, stated that the project will have to be dropped for some time until general prices are materially reduced. At present, he claims, the average cost per mile for the putting in of a railroad is $25,000. This is probably accountable for the unusual inactivity of extension work among the large railroads throughout the country during the last few years.

To Continue Its Lines
The plans of the local railroad officials provide for the continuation of the present line from La Crescenta to Tujunga, and other parts of the Monte Vista valley country, and also for a number of minor improvements on different parts of the line.

The Glendale & Montrose Railway company, which was organized in 1909 with two narrow gauge lines running to Eagle Rock and Verdugo Park, respectively, has shown a steady growth, and is now considered as one of the best independent organizations of its kind in Southern California. Since its establishment the company has added several miles of road, broadened the tracks, doubled the number of cars in operation and generally improved the service.

Miss Katherine Taylor Is Hostess to Class

The Queen Esther circle of the First Baptist church met Thursday night at the home of Miss Katherine Taylor, 123 South Everett street. A short business meeting, at which Miss Meriam Rich, the class president, presided, was followed by a pleasant social hour.

The girls greatly surprised their hostess, who leaves shortly for Berkeley, where she will attend the University of California, with a shower of pretty gifts. After a very happy evening of refreshments were served by the hostess.

The members of the class who attended the meeting were Della Young, Hazel Myers, Irene Wright, Alice Wright, Ruth Palmer, Hazel Walters, Marion Grigg, Faith Tarrington, Edith Price, Margaret McPherson and the class teacher, Mrs. Alexander.

Mrs. J. W. Lohman and Four Children Arrive

Mrs. J. W. Lohman of Pioneer, Calif., with her four children, Neal, Doris, John and Virginia, has arrived in Glendale for a two weeks' visit at the homes of her brothers, Herbert, Frank and Bert Matthiesen. She will spend the first week with the Herbert Matthiesens at 825 South Adams street, then visit the other two families and also Mr. and Mrs. Henry Matthiesen of Hollywood.

Mr. Lohman will drive down the first week in August and take his family home. Mrs. F. V. Matthiesen, Mrs. Lohman's mother, who has been visiting her son in Hollywood will return to Pioneer with them.

GIRLS GOING AFTER FREE BIKES, SO BOYS, HUMP!

Doris Magarell Is Making Splendid Showing; Others Doing Well, Also

Watch your step, boys! A girl is bound she'll win one of those Harley-Davidson auto bikes that The Glendale Evening News is giving away.

She is a business-like little lady by the name of Doris Magarell of 819 South Glendale avenue. Already she has a flying start in her race to get the twenty new yearly subscriptions or their equivalent.

And Miss Magarell is not the only girl entered in the bicycle club. There are six others besides three score boys who are doing fine. By the middle of next week the first of an unlimited supply of speedy Harley-Davidson wheels will be given away if the present pace is kept up, according to A. T. Blanford, manager of the subscription club.

Well Worth Working For
Practically every boy and girl who comes to The Glendale Evening News office and inspects the $65 machine with its quality equipment knows it is well worth working for. Just twenty new yearly subscribers and the prize is tipped off the pedestal and it is theirs for keeps.

Many of the young solicitors are finding the evening an excellent time to work as many people are at home—and it is cooler then, too. Somehow people are not so amiable these warm days, but in the majority of instances they lend encouragement to the boys and girls in the way of three months, six months or full year's subscription to The Glendale Evening News.

Parents, also, are helping their children in gaining the coveted prize which may be won in seven days' effort. There is still room for others to join the bicycle subscription club which will not close until September 1.

Those interested should call and see A. T. Blanford at 139 South Brand boulevard today or tomorrow. The earlier the start the less competition. But there will be a wheel for everyone who gets the twenty subscribers.

Get in the swim, kiddies. The weather's fine!

Keep Clean and Cool and Yet Cook Dinner

The mystery of how housewives may keep clean and cool in the kitchen while cooking was solved yesterday afternoon at the demonstration conducted at the J. A. Newton Electric company, 629-31 East Broadway, by Mrs. M. Sunderman, who actually baked an angel food cake and roasted a shoulder of lamb. This demonstration was made with the use of a Westinghouse automatic electric range. The ovens of this range are constructed very much similar to that of a fireless cooker. Even while the heat inside the oven is at the highest, the outside of the oven remains perfectly cool.

The Westinghouse automatic electric ranges are equipped with a clock which automatically starts the cooking at any given time for which it is set. The oven is equipped with an indicator which automatically shuts off the current when the heat in the oven reaches a certain temperature. In this way the housewife may put on the stove the various things to be baked and after setting the clock and indicator may go shopping, make social calls, or attend to her other work without any further thought as to the cooking.

On account of the special construction of the oven, it continues to bake or roast for several hours after the current has been shut off, in this way proving to be very economical.

Mrs. Sunderman will conduct another demonstration this afternoon at the J. A. Newton company's office from 2 until 5 o'clock, which will prove very interesting and worth while to the women of Glendale, to whom a cordial invitation has been extended to attend.

SHE MEANT WELL

To say the fitting thing in acknowledgment of a favor is something of a tax on the conversational powers of most people; when the recipient is unfamiliar with the conventional phrases used or gets confused in using them, comical situations occur, as in this instance reported in Harper's Magazine. Two sisters of a deceased cook called to acknowledge the flowers sent by the family. "We came to thank you for those beautiful flowers that you sent for sister," said the elder woman; and then, with a little stutter, she added, "and we hope soon to be able to return the favor."

Land Thought Useless Furnishes Oil Strike

LOS GATOS—Thomas Jones, 21-year-old tray boy at the Los Gatos sanitarium, awoke to find himself rich—if not famous.

He learned that he had made $50,000 in Louisiana oil land that he had thought practically worthless.

He bought the land several years ago at $7 an acre, but had given up hope, regarding it as a bad speculation.

Yesterday he was notified that oil had been struck there and that the fifty thousand was his share in the first production.

ANNUAL CAMP FOR ADVENTISTS OPEN AT ALHAMBRA

Many Prominent People in Church Attend; to Last for Three Weeks

Several thousand members and followers of the Seventh-day Adventist church gathered from all parts of the state to attend the opening session of the annual camp meeting of the Southern California Adventists, which is being held in Alhambra. The main pavilion has a seating capacity of over 2500. The opening assembly yesterday was directed toward the formal opening of the gathering, and consisted of a series of short addresses by several of the most prominent Adventists in southern California. A general outline and plan of the accomplishments to be made during the meeting were given to the delegates.

Besides a number of well known western speakers the committee in charge has obtained the following men to give addresses during the sojourn: F. C. Gilbert of South Lancaster, Massachusetts; C. L. Benson of Lincoln, Nebraska; R. D. Quinn of Washington, D. C. Governor Stephens is to be the principal speaker at the gigantic meeting to be held next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

To Last For Three Weeks
During the camp meeting, which will last for three weeks, a few of the weighty subjects that will be discussed are the fulfillment of prophecy regarding the agitated blue law movement, national and worldwide labor problems, peace propositions, preparedness for war and the world-wide activity in the foreign and home missionary fields.

The Alhambra Chamber of Commerce is making every effort to make the enormous undertaking a huge success, they having furnished the thousands of campers and visitors with free camping grounds, water, light and various other commodities. The several square blocks that have been allotted to the Adventists are covered with many rows of orderly arranged family tents with various auditoriums, stores, rest rooms, etc., making the whole thing appear as a large military camp.

In a barren and waterless waste in British East Africa is what appears to be a lake covered with a coating of snow partly thawed and then frozen again. It is in reality a deposit of soda. Travelers traversing this district in the dry season find their shoes burned and the sharp spikes of the soda will pierce any but the thickest soles. During the rainy season the lake is a beautiful pink.

Miss Eva Green Has Surprise on Birthday

A very delightful surprise was arranged for Miss Eva Green of 528 West Patterson street Wednesday in honor of her birthday. A group of her friends invited her to go with them to Los Angeles for dinner and to attend the Morocco theatre, but when they reached Echo park they stopped there and she discovered that they had brought with them a bountiful picnic lunch, including a big birthday cake and many delicious accessories.

Following the supper they spent an hour paddling on the lake, then attended the theatre as previously planned. The party included Miss Frances Green, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Jenkins, Miss Eloise Jenkins, Mrs. Edith Jenkins, Jack Jenkins and Miss Eva Green.

Special Big Excursion SUNDAY

Only a Few Days Remain for You to Buy a Lot for $200

That Is Leased to the Great

STANDARD OIL CO.

On Bolsa-Chica Dome—on the structure—directly in line between Huntington Beach and Signal Hill.

On or Before July 28

This low opening price of Tract No. 2 Will Be Advanced to $250 or More.

We predict that these lots will be selling for and sought after at $1000 per lot in the very near future. When this Tract No. 2 is sold out—there are no more lots on Bolsa Chica Dome leased to The Standard Oil Co., to be had at Any Price—unless you buy at an advanced price—from some of those who are buying at the ground floor opening price of $200.

The very excellent showings reported within the last few days from the deep test Torrance well of the Standard Oil Co., also from the Mid-Central well—both on the edge of Bolsa Chica Dome—justify this advance—and we reserve the right to advance to a much higher price than $250—and to make the advance before July 28th or to withdraw all unsold lots from the market without notice.

Some of the Great Geologists and the Best Oil Brains in the Business—believe that the best true oil sand has not yet been reached at Huntington Beach—and many oil companies are acting upon this advice and drilling deeper. Geologists have said that the great Anticline runs from Huntington Beach to Signal Hill and necessarily under Bolsa Chica Dome which lays northwest of the famous Bolsa Chica Gusher the greatest of all wells in this field—It is predicted that the True Gusher Oil Sands underlie Bolsa Chica Dome—and not a few but many now believe that Bolsa-Chica Dome Will Startle the Oil World—and Will Be the Next Big Field.

If you were too late at Huntington Beach or too slow at Signal Hill—this is your one big opportunity—and your last chance to get in ahead of the big excitement that is apparently about due to happen.

Why gamble in oil stocks—why not play the game the safer way? Own the land—with royalty rights—and especially own land leased to The Standard Oil Co., who know the oil business and who have successfully brought in good oil wells where some of the new and weaker Companies have failed. It is seldom you can buy land that is leased to the Standard Oil Co., at any price—and never again can you buy lots for the small price of $200—that are located like these. Conservative business men and women are buying these lots who would not buy "oil stock" under any consideration—nor land leased to any other company.

All Lot Owners Share Any Royalty Equally from Any Number of Wells on an Entire Thirty Acres

Under our fair plan—a well does not have to be drilled on the lot you buy for you to receive a big royalty—but each lot owner shares pro-rata in the royalty from any number of wells on the entire 30 acres that may be produced by The Standard Oil Co. The Long Beach Trust and Savings Bank deed you the lot you buy—and they will collect for you all royalty that may become due you.

'DEAR KATIE' HEARS ABOUT BIKES FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

Strivin' Reporter Tells of Remarkable Offer Made by The Evening News

Glendale, July 22, 1921. Dear Katie: A few days ago I read an article on this here paper of which I am a strivin' reporter of the same, which says as how a famous $65.00 Harley-Davidson auto bike was goin' to be given away free of gratts to every boy and girl that would get 20 new subscribers to The Glendale Evening News.

Well Katie, that looked as easy to me as a upholstered rockin' chair, so I dropped my paper and put on my hat and I run like everything down to the office to get the facts about the matter.

Well, when I got there, the breath was all outta me, but I hustled up to the boss and he looked up kinda excited, like I guess he thought as how I'd got a big scoop full of news from somewhere.

Howsoever, I didn't give him no chance to say nothin' and right away I says to him as how I had come to get one of them there free bicycles, which the same he was givin' away free for nothin'.

I says I just got to have one of them there beauty bicycles or as a strivin' reporter, I'll soon be a complete success as a failure.

I says as how now days when there's a fire I have to race around like a chicken chasin' a grasshopper to wherever the fire is at, so as I can write an article about it and when I get there the fire is all out and there ain't nothin' to write an article about and whereas and soforth if I only had one of them there bicycles, I could get to the fire before it went out and not mentionin' as how I could go out to Venice on my bicycle on Sundays if I had one, instead of payin' out half my week's wages to get there, which the same I have to earn by the sweat of my honest brow.

Writers Should Ride

He who runs may read, I says, but them that writes ought to ride bicycles.

And I says as how if he will give me one of them there bicycles in advance I could ride around town on it and get a couple dozen subscribers for this here paper before the sun went down.

Well Katie, all this argument did me about as much good as it did to sign the petition for a independent post office, cause by this time the boss was reachin' for his hip pocket and I begun to turn as white as a pail of milk, cause I couldn't figure out whether he was reachin' for a gun or his handkerchief. But anyway Katie, what he had in his hip pocket ain't got nothin' to do with this letter. Then with increasin' cold and westerly winds he begun to say to me as how this Harley-Davidson beauty contest is for the boys and girls of Glendale and not for nobody on the pay roll of this here paper and that settled the matter. Well Katie, I come out second best and the front door as is usual and my hopes for a bicycle was extinguished like a candle under a snuffer.

But anyway, Katie, there's about fifty boys and girls that's hustlin' around to earn their bicycles and they're gettin' subscriptions faster than Mary Pickford ever got votes.

Better Than Circus

There's even four kids in one family workin' for bicycles and they're gettin' more fun out of it than they ever did carrin water for the elephant.

And yesterday mornin' about 6 a. m. a ambitious kid rung the door bell at a certain house, till he woke up everybody out of their beauty slumbers and the fair maiden of the place, with her hair mussed up like she'd lost all her hair pins, rushed to the door, thinkin' as how the house must be on fire. She opened the door and the kid says as how wouldn't she like to take The Glendale Evening News.

Well Katie, it seems as how this same fair maiden is a clerk in The News office, so what she told that kid wouldn't look nice in black and white.

Anyway I'll bet that kid didn't stop runnin' this side of the state line.

Yours, On Foot,
E. C. HALE.

It Proves Costly to Forget Evening News, So Jerry Discovers

The Glendale Evening News of last Friday cost Jerry 22 cents.

For Jerry was the goat—No, not the garden variety that chews tin cans and swallows the neighbor's clothes line, clothes and all.

Jerry is the brother of Mrs. William M. Davis of 3722 Seneca avenue, Los Angeles, just south of the city boundaries of Glendale.

Every night he dutifully takes a copy of The Glendale Evening News to his sister in order that she may see the bargains offered by the Glendale merchants.

But he forgot. And it was necessary for him to pay care, besides paying for the paper in order that sister might see what Saturday in Glendale held forth.

Only recently have Mr. and Mrs. Davis completed their new home and they have found that furnishings, as well as groceries and other necessities can be purchased here as reasonably as in the city.

Motor Tourists Swarm Through Northwest

PORTLAND, Ore.—Gone are the slow-moving vans, the moth-eaten wagons with their worse moth-eaten steeds, the canvas-covered prairie schooners. The tourist of yester-year has been relegated to the limbo of oblivion with the advent of the flivver and the paved highway.

The modern gypsy is here!

Portland is the clearing house for hundreds of tourists each day at this time of the year. And these tourists are in a class by themselves.

California or Canada bound, they are pouring over the highways of the northwest—an animated, good-natured, Goth-like hoard, roving of eye, cheerful of countenance, and amiable of disposition.

In vehicles of all sorts they come, from touring cars with neatly arranged cases containing baggage to big lumberlike bodies mounted on "flivver" chassis, in which whole families live day in and day out, and from whose windows the eager faces of children peer and from whose sides float stringloads of vari-colored "wash."

No weather can deter them. No hardship can cast them down. They are out for a good time. Some parties have been on the road for months, others have just started.

In the auto camp here license tags from as many as thirty states have mingled their colors and their combinations of numerals. Along the highways drifting smoke betokens the presence of campers along meandering creeks and beside cool rivers.

They are going somewhere. Where? They don't know.

"We're seeing the country," they say. "We've worked hard for years and now we're taking our vacation. It's a great life."

It is no uncommon sight to see the puny radiator of a cheap car puffing steam through the water vent as the puny engine beneath the hood battles valiantly to hurry along a barn-like tonneau with a family of a dozen.

The camaraderie of it all! "Oh, dad, look, there's the people we saw near Yosemite," a youngster will cry. Or,

"Hello, folks. Haven't seen you since we pulled through Fourth of July canyon. How's tricks?" Or, "By George, we'd sure been out of luck if you folks hadn't loaned us that gasoline there in the desert."

The whole northwest is pervaded with the spirit of the modern gypsy. And here, where their Mecca seems to be, the long lines of them stretch back into the middle western plains, up into the mountains of Canada, or down into the rice bottoms of California.

"Make way for the migratory American," mutters the traffic cop, as he swings his semaphore to watch them chug past.

One Class Is Popular During Hot Weather

STANFORD UNIVERSITY. — Hot weather has a reputation for making the classroom unpopular. There is one branch of higher education here, however, which flourishes in direct ratio with the heat of the sun.

The swimming class is the hot weather favorite. Registration figures reveal the fact that practically every student in the university, men and women alike, is enrolled in a swimming class. Every Stanford man or woman is required to take up some branch of athletics. The popularity of the various sports is seasonal, but during the summer months the opinion seems to be to "make it unanimous" regarding the swimming classes. Far more students are enrolled for swimming than for any other sport.

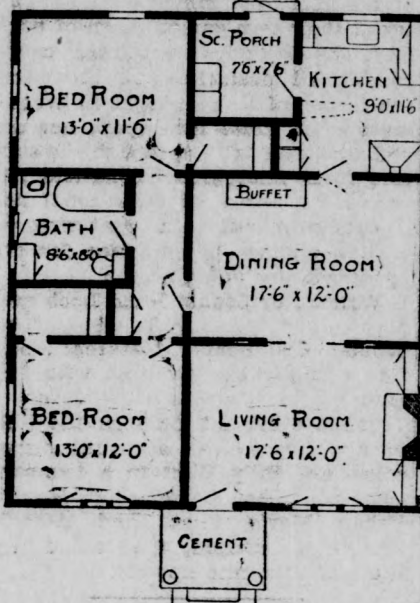

From 10 in the morning until sundown the pools at the men's and women's gymnasiums resound to the flop of expert divers, and the ear-splitting crack of those who aren't. The "crawl" is popular at other seasons with those who fancy the "light fantastic toe," but the only kind of a "crawl" that draws the crowds this summer is the crawl-stroke.

Secret Organization's Acts Causing Inquiry

AUSTIN, Tex.—The southwest today faced the problem of an invisible empire within itself.

The Ku Klux Klan, originated in ancient Scotland and revived in the turbulent carpet bagging days of the old south, faced two proposed legislative resolutions, one aimed generally to remove the cause for its existence in Texas and another to investigate its objects and actions.

Technicalities of law handicapping prosecutions of criminal cases were described as the "cause of existence."

The resolutions were to be introduced in the Texas senate asking laws be passed to break up the Klan which has grown in a few months to what is admitted to be the strongest secret organization in the new southwest.

Senator Edgar Witt said he would specifically name the Klan and organizations declared not bona fide, but which have taken its name in staging demonstrations and punishing individuals for infractions of "moral laws."

Police and other peace officials following an investigation, declared today that many of the assaults, whippings and tar and feather affairs of the last few months throughout the southwest are not the work of the bona fide Klan, but the work of small groups of men who worked under the guise of the white masks of the organization.

Masked men and others have participated in thirty-four demonstrations in Texas this year. These demonstrations have included everything from gifts to charity to tarring and feathering a white woman after she had been stripped of her clothing. She stood naked before her abductors—men—as they poured the tar upon her.

Gold and silver in small quantities have been discovered on a farm in Iowa, according to reports from a Chicago assayer. Certain sections of the country along the Des Moines river are underlain by ore-bearing gravel beds.

The University of Calcutta has 26,000 students, the largest enrollment of any university in the British empire.

SHEER WILL POWER WINS FOR THIS FILM HEROINE

Defeats Some of Shrewdest Minds, Becomes Leader, Loves---In Pictures

The story of a girl who accomplished great things through sheer will power, who fought men without considering the handicap of sex, is told in the new Selznick special, "The Woman God Sent," which will be shown today only at the Glendale theatre.

Margaret Manning defeated some of the shrewdest minds of the country at their own game. Born of poverty, she struggles upwards, overcoming all obstacles and becoming the leader of a great fight in Washington. A great love spurs her on and she never falters, though she suffers from misapprehensions and intrigue. A series of sensational accidents culminate in a great victory, with a number of surprises for all concerned, including herself.

Written by Sophie Irene Loeb and directed by Larry Trimble, "The Woman God Sent" features Zena Keefe in the leading role, with Joe King playing opposite as her lover. Three other numbers on the bill, in addition to the beautiful organ solos, are Billy West in a two-part comedy, "The Conquering Hero"; Urban Movie Chats and Aesop's Fables Modernized, the second release of that film novelty.

Musical Programs to Be Church's Feature

During the hot weeks of mid-summer the evening services at the First Methodist church will be devoted almost entirely to musical programs. This coming Sunday the choir has prepared an unusually beautiful program, including three anthems: "The God of Abraham Praise," by Dudley Buck; "Lift Up Thine Eyes," a woman's chorus by Mendelssohn, and "Hear, Oh My People."

Other special features of the program will be a violin and saxophone duet by Bertha and Harriet Brown, and special organ music by Mrs. Harriett Randall. Miss Isgrig, the director of the choir, has put much energy into the preparation of the coming programs and says that the choruses are among the finest she has presented in Glendale.

Herman Nelson Quite Certain No Weeds on Bank; Tells City So

Herman Nelson, manager of the Glendale avenue branch, Los Angeles Trust & Savings bank, has a keen sense of humor.

Among others he received a notice from the city of Glendale that $1.50 was to be paid in advance for cleaning the lot on which the Bank of Glendale building now stands.

Across the notification card he wrote as follows:

"No dirt; no rubbish. Weeds are not growing on our doorstep yet."

"Never noticed any rank growth from buildings."

"Sidewalks are swept every morning."

"Everything seems very quiet ever since the mayor left the corner."

Mr. Nelson was referring to the removal of Spencer Robinson's real estate office to make room for additional banking quarters.

Troops of France Are Prepared for Invasion

By WEBB MILLER

United Press Staff Correspondent

PARIS, July 22.—French troops were ready to march into Silesia today.

The Franco-British entente appeared to be approaching a crisis over the Silesian situation. There was strong disagreement on virtually every point. The situation was:

First—Britain requested that the supreme council meet July 27 to fix the Polish-German boundary in Upper Silesia on the basis of the plebiscite, thus ending the dispute over it.

Second—France, it was semi-officially stated, refused to agree to the proposed meeting, but said one could be held early in August after the plebiscite commission's experts have reported on the boundaries. Meanwhile France insists reinforcements should be sent into Silesia.

There is belief here that Great Britain will refuse to send more troops and that, in that case France probably would act independently.

United Press Staff Correspondent

TOKYO—Official silence envelops the results of the great cabinet and foreign office conference which deliberated on Japan's policies in respect to various countries on the continent of Asia.

While the foreign office had originally planned to give an outline of the results in an official statement to the press, this idea was abandoned for some reason. It is, however, possible to form a very accurate opinion of most of the decisions which were made, from talks with well-informed officials in a position to know.

The decision to withdraw the troops from Siberia, except the Amur region and Saghalien; and from the Kwantung railway, was regarded as a victory for the premier, and the foreign office over the militarists, for while the civil officials have for some time past been anxious to take such action, they have been thwarted by the iron opposition of the War Department. I am informed, however, from a reliable source, that this action was suggested by no less a person than Minister of War General Tanaka, even though opposition remains in the general staff, which continues to harbor many reactionary militarists of the pre-war school.

Whether General Tanaka's action indicates that the more enlightened soldiers were finally able to see that continued presence of Japanese troops in Siberia was bound to lead to war, cannot be stated. Such a war would involve enormous forces and expense. Furthermore, contrary to the former war with Russia, the Russians would this time be fired with patriotism to drive out the invaders, while the Japanese would be lukewarm, to say the least.

Since the conference broke up, the situation in Siberia has changed by capture by the Kappelist forces of Vladivostok and neighboring territory. The withdrawal policy was made contingent on the Chita government's accepting certain Japanese demands, chief among which was the undertaking of maintaining peace in Siberia. It would seem as if, now that Vladivostok has passed out of the control of the Chita government, this might make it difficult for Japan to accept any guarantee which it might be willing to make, but a high official informs me that this will make no difference, and that Japan remains, in spite of changed conditions, willing to withdraw her troops on Chita's assurance of maintenance of order, and that a high official will soon be sent to Siberia to conduct the necessary negotiations.

As might be expected, accusations have been made that the Japanese militarists engineered, or at least were privy to the Kappelist coup, in order that the withdrawal of troops might be prevented. On the other hand, if Japan sticks to her program, as outlined, it will show that she is making an honest attempt to get out of Siberia with fairly clean hands and a far point in Asian politics will thus have been brought a great step nearer solution.

Have Stanford Build a Home for You NOW

No one knows if building costs will go lower or not—but there is one thing that everyone knows: In waiting for lower costs you are spending something more valuable than what little money you may be able to save—something that cannot be replaced.

That something is TIME—the years of your life. You may spend or lose your money—or regain it, but the lost years will never come back.

Will the little that you may (or may not) save in money, in order that your estate may inventory a few more dollars, compensate you for withholding from yourself, your wife and your family the enjoyment of such a home as you and they want, and ought to have?

Except to the miser, money is worth nothing beyond the satisfaction, comforts and pleasures it can bring in the life we are living here and now.

An investment in a home is not a speculation, and there is no possibility of a loss, where there is a certainty of an abundant return in health and contentment.

Why not, therefore, go forward unhesitatingly—at once—and have Stanford build you a home to suit you?

It is now possible to send a crewless vessel as far as radio impulses will carry. The same means can be used in sending a giant torpedo against a foe regardless of how far distant the enemy might be, provided he is within reach of the radio. In vessels the device is attached to the fuel engine, the water engine and the steering mechanism making it possible to guide, fuel and water by radio.

Special Excursion on Sunday to Oil Field

When a firm of the magnitude of the Standard Oil company leases land for oil, there is little doubt but that oil will be found on that land, and when this same land is offered for sale at $200 a lot, there will be little time lost before these lots are sold. The Bolsa-Chica Oil and Gas Syndicate is planning to have a special big excursion Sunday, with busses leaving their office at 10:30 o'clock for this location, which is between the already-established oil fields of Signal Hill and Huntington Beach. All lot owners will share equally the royalty on any number of wells on the entire thirty acres leased by the Standard Oil company.

Bolsa Chica Dome, the name of this tract, has the most favorable location in regard to oil structure. Geologists have stated that the anticline runs from Huntington Beach to Signal Hill, and necessarily under Bolsa Chica Dome, which lays north-west of the famous Bolsa Chica Gusher.

The plan submitted by the Bolsa-Chica Oil and Gas Syndicate is not the gamble in oil stocks, but includes royalty rights with the ownership of the land. It is not often that land leased by the Standard Oil company is offered for sale.

Large, comfortable busses leave the local office at 107 West Broadway at 10:30 o'clock every morning. Phone Glendale 1635 for reservations. The trip is made by way of Signal Hill and Huntington Beach oil fields, and a dinner is served at noon.

William K. Mead, an experienced oil man, will give an interesting and instructive lecture on "Oil."

Musical Clowns Feature of Vaudeville Program

Manhattan's great musical clowns, one of the most unique and novel musical acts in vaudeville, headlines the Meiklejohn and Dunn road show at the Glendale theatre tomorrow, matinee and evening. This aggregation uses twenty different musical instruments in addition to singing and dancing.

Gordon and Rica, celebrated European artists, are also on the big program with their 1921 success, "Trying to Amuse" and from the list of their accomplishments they should be able to live up to their billing. They dance, sing, provide comedy patter and have a sensational bicycle act. Dave and Nat King, "classy entertainers," have an act that is different. The chief fun-maker on the program will be "Rookie" Lewis, blackface comedian, known as "the tar baby recruit" who tells stories and otherwise makes merry.

In addition to this special vaudeville program the feature photoplay, "The Husband Hunter," starring Eileen Percy will be shown.

There will be no advance in the regular admission price and a special bargain matinee will be given at 2:30 o'clock. Balloons will be given the kiddies and women will enjoy the typhoon cooled theater in the afternoon.

Mrs. Mary G. Barstow Is Taken by Death

Mrs. Mary G. Barstow, wife of A. A. Barstow, passed away at her home, 337 North Cedar street, at 7:30 last night after a lingering illness. She also leaves two children, Oliver and Barbara, and a sister.

Mrs. Barstow was a native of California, having been born in San Francisco. She had resided in Glendale for a year and a half. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at the Little Church of the Flowers at 2 o'clock. L. G. Scovren Undertaking company is in charge. Funeral private.

Contract Is Prepared for Sanitary Engineers

T. W. Watson, city manager, submitted the following communication to the city council last night in reference to a contract with Olmsted & Gillelen, sanitary engineers:

"Pursuant to authorization of the board of trustees in regular session May 19, 1921, we have caused to be prepared a contract or agreement between the city of Glendale and Olmsted & Gillelen, sanitary engineers, whereby they will prepare plans and specifications for sewage disposal plant for Verdugo canyon district (municipal improvement district No. 4) and present the same herewith for your consideration.

"Pursuant to authorization by the board of trustees at the same meeting, plans and specifications for the construction of trunk line sewer for Verdugo canyon district are now being prepared and will be ready for your consideration within the next two weeks and as the preparation of plans and specifications for suitable disposal works will no doubt require considerable time, we would recommend that the selection of sanitary engineers for the purpose of preparing the same be given early consideration by your council. The contract submitted herewith has been prepared by the city attorney. The terms thereof are acceptable to Olmsted & Gillelen and if the same meets with the approval of your council, we would recommend the employment of Olmsted & Gillelen in accordance with the terms thereof."

On motion of Councilman Kimlin, the city manager was instructed to give a copy of the proposed contract to each of the councilmen for consideration and the matter will be considered at another meeting.

Mrs. Martha J. Bramble Dies; Funeral Saturday

Mrs. Martha J. Bramble, wife of LeRoy G. Bramble of 622 North Columbus avenue, passed away Thursday night after a sudden and unexpected illness. Mrs. Bramble was taken ill Tuesday evening and rushed to a hospital for an operation but the efforts of the surgeons were useless, and after two days' intense suffering she died.

She was 43 years of age and celebrated her twentieth wedding anniversary July 8. She had lived in Glendale for nine years and was devoted to her husband and little son, Gilbert. Beside her husband and child, Mrs. Bramble leaves two sisters, Mrs. Bertha Germain and Mrs. Walter Butler, both of Glendale; a mother, Mrs. Mercy McGinnis, and a niece, Mrs. M. Sarason.

The funeral will take place Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Little Church of the Flowers, with Pulliam & Kiefer in charge.

Mrs. Ella W. Richardson, Glendale's representative on the general committee on the San Fernando Valley Market and Annual Fair, attended a meeting of that body on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Ella Houston in San Fernando at which time the women's part in this event was outlined.

Booth, Pacoima; Mrs. Howard Trotter, Van Nuys; Mrs. C. C. Bowerman, Lankershim; Mrs. Charles Steere, Burbank; and Mrs. E. R. Elkins, San Fernando. TRANSFER OF FUNDS RECOMMENDED BY CITY MANAGER

Council Agrees to Several Changes as Result of Charter Provisions

T. W. Watson, city manager, at the meeting of the city council last night presented a communication relative to the general reserve fund, in which he suggested that certain transfers be made. The city council ordered the transfers as recommended. The communication follows:

"The present balance in general reserve fund is $10,361.43. The balance in the compensation insurance reserve fund is $12,021.32. This fund was accumulated from the revenues of the city for the purpose of meeting possible claims against the city on account of compensation insurance. The policy of the city carrying its own compensation insurance was discontinued about a year ago and the city's liabilities in this respect covered by insurance policy with the state insurance fund and the premiums thereon are met from annual revenues of the city as a part of the expense of the several departments. There is therefore no longer any need of maintaining this compensation insurance reserve fund.

Advertising and Promotion
"There has been carried on the city books for a number of years under the head of Advertising and Promotion fund the sum of $1,002.45. As city charter provides that appropriations for advertising and promotion be from the general budget fund it does not seem necessary to maintain this additional fund. It is quite desirable that the general reserve fund be increased as rapidly as possible to a sufficient sum to take care of expenditures out of general budget fund for the first four months of the fiscal year as contemplated by city charter.

"I would respectfully recommend that the balance in the compensation insurance reserve fund of $12,021.31 and the balance in the advertising and promotion fund of $1,002.25 be transferred to and made a part of the general reserve fund which would make the balance in that fund $23,385.19.

"If the above recommendation meets with the approval of your council, we would also recommend that the total balance in the general reserve fund after the addition thereto of the two amounts above mentioned be transferred as a loan to the general budget fund."

'Masked Terror' Holding Texas In Grip of Fear

DALLAS, Tex., July 22.—The "masked terror" held the entire state of Texas in a grip of fear and apprehension today.

Sixty-eight demonstrations by masked bands in which the victims were mutilated, beaten and covered with tar and feathers, were reported since the first of this year.

Authorities today investigated the first death in the masked raids. A member of a raiding party was killed when the band had approached a house near Childress in the Pan Handle.

Adjutant-General George Curteon told the United Press that his hands were tied and his department had no power to bring the disturbers to justice. He said it was a matter for local officials to handle.

The Hillsboro Mirror published a notice bearing the alleged seal of a secret organization, warning "evil doers" and advising "certain married men" to spend more time with their wives.

To assure himself that members of the Ku Klux Klan were not implicated in recent instances of mob violence in Oklahoma and Texas, William J. Simmons, imperial wizard of the order, has detailed 30 men to investigate each of the cases. He telegraphed Texas and Oklahoma newspapers from his headquarters at Atlanta to this effect. Simmons said he was confident that K. K. members did not participate in the lawless occurrences.

Action by the legislature to investigate the terrorism was held up pending advice from the governor.

Combination Meeting Held by Church Folk

A combination meeting of the Women's Auxiliary and St. Mark's Guild was held yesterday afternoon at St. Mark's Episcopal church, with over thirty members present. Miss Wheelock of Pasadena gave an interesting talk on the Church Periodical club and told of its work and aims. Mrs. J. L. McOmber of Glendale has been appointed Church Periodical secretary for this section. During the afternoon refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed. This was the last meeting for the summer. The guilds will reconvene September 1.

Officers Seek Suspect In Mystery Kidnaping

SAN DIEGO, July 22.—Police and deputy sheriffs are scouring San Diego county today in the hope of apprehending two men in a high powered automobile who are said to have kidnaped a woman as yet unidentified in East San Diego at 9:30 o'clock last night.

The woman was going from a street car when the men drove up, seized her and carried her to the auto. She struggled and attempted to cry out, when the men apparently choked her into submission.

J. C. Wright, who lives nearby, obtained a revolver and started in pursuit of the big car in his own auto. He was soon outdistanced and gave up the chase.

Police and deputy sheriffs were summoned and the roads leading from the city were guarded until a late hour, without success.

Mrs. Wright, who was near the scene of the kidnaping, heard one of the men say: "Kill 'em Bill, if she won't shut up," she reports.

Little Nap Cost Him 30 Year Old Beard

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22.—William Hood, famed engineer and builder of the Southern Pacific railway lines, was back in San Francisco today from his first vacation in some forty years, but minus the whiskers he had been thirty years in raising.

Hood spent his days of rest at Yosemite. His time being devoted to rest, he admitted he dozed in a barber chair at a Yosemite hotel.

Suddenly, Hood explained today, he awoke.

"What's coming off?" he shouted to the barber.

"Your whiskers, sir," blandly replied the white-coated razor wielder. Hood looked in a glass and there he was, the same man minus the "mutton chops" he had so prized.

"Vacations are too expensive," Hood mused today. "I hate to think of spending another thirty years replacing what I lost in a ten-minute doze."

Winter Sports Added to Olympic Contests

By GEORGE GRIBBLE
United Press Staff Correspondent

LAUSANNE.—The Olympic congress which has been sitting since June 2 has terminated its work. The object of the conference was to complete and revise the work of the former conference of national Olympic committees, which was held in Paris in 1914.

Among the innovations to be introduced as standing features of Olympic games, are winter sports. This aroused a lively discussion among the American, Canadian, Swiss and French delegates in opposition to the Scandinavians, who were opposed to the new ruling. It was finally decided, however, that winter sports should be held during January or February preceding the Olympic meetings. Among the events will be skating races for distances of 500, 1500, 5000 and 10,000 meters, figure skating for men and women, singly and in couples, ice hockey and ski-ing, long distance races (12 to 18 kilometers and 50 to 100 kilometers) and jumping. Races for toboggans were not included, being judged too complicated.

Another important decision was the Olympic event. It was decided to offer a prize for the most noteworthy performance in mountain climbing, both from the sporting and scientific point of view, occurring between two Olympic meetings. The prize will be attributed either to individuals or to groups.

The proposal to create a union of International Sporting federation was not approved. In place of it, it was resolved to organize a permanent board of five members whose

Objections Not Found to Sheet Metal Works

T. W. Watson, city manager, submitted the following communication to the city council last night:

"In regard to application of Thielon & Yeager to establish and maintain sheet metal works at 1418 South Santa Fe Road:

"We have caused an investigation to be made as to attitude of business men having retail establishments in this vicinity and the superintendent of buildings, who made the investigation, reports having personally seen over half of the people living and doing business in this block and he finds no objection thereto. This location is on east side of San Fernando Road, south of Los Feliz Road, and is not in the industrial district."

The city council decided to postpone action on the permit until the next meeting.

object it shall be to collect all documents and information of interest to international sporting associations.

Reconstruction Work Proceeding Steadily

By R. H. SHEFFIELD
United Press Staff Correspondent

LILLE, France.—While British and American generosity has helped substantially in the reconstruction of farms in the war zone of Belgium, the government has been able to obtain from Germany restitution of much farming stock and material. Latest returns in this connection show that to date the following equipments have been effected: 6394 horses, 35,000 oxen, 32,000 sheep, 8,000 goats, 50,000 head of poultry, 10,000 tons of fertilizers, $72,000 worth of seeds and $400,000 worth of farming implements and machinery.

Government intervention in farm restoration has been mainly confined to the places that suffered most in the war, localities not so badly hit being dealt with by private enterprises and by officially controlled contractors.

The government has spent nearly a million dollars on reconstruction of the waterways, so necessary to farming in Flanders. Approximately thirteen-fourteenths of the pre-war farmland in the hundred parishes of the Belgian war front have been again brought under cultivation.

In the French devastated departments, 7146 square miles of land were ruined in the war; to date considerably over five-sevenths of this area is again available for farming. Indeed, the liberated departments of France now produce enough grain for their own requirements.

Both in France and in Belgium, government policy is to let private enterprise and initiative have as free

Grass Fire Threatens Houses Before Stopped

The dry grass at the end of Elk avenue nearly caused a serious fire yesterday when Mrs. Harry Schenck attempted to burn a pile of trash. Having set fire to a heap of old papers she went into the house for a few minutes and when she returned discovered that the brush was on fire for about twenty yards up the ditch which cuts off the street. It took a number of people half an hour to check the flames, which were rapidly approaching the buildings across the ditch.

For the first time in history a woman presided over the House of Representatives when Miss Alice Robertson, Republican member from Oklahoma, occupied the chair during the absence from Washington of Speaker Gillett.

one-third of the pre-war population of the French war regions was residing there; today only a half a million of the pre-war population is lacking (i. e., population in 1914, 4,676,000; population at May 1, 1921, 4,165,000).

Shortage of labor, of material and of transport, especially at the start of operations, forced the authorities and builders to put up with makeshifts, such as wooden huts for houses. This difficulty is, however, being gradually overcome. Nearly 78 per cent of the pre-war factories of North France are again at work and the proportion of staff that have resumed work approximates 45 per cent.

LAW S FOR CONDUCT OF BUS SYSTEMS ARE PROPOSED

Ordinance for Regulation of Business Is Ordered by City Councilmen

An ordinance providing for the issuance of permits by the City Council for the establishment and operation of automobile bus lines within the city was ordered drawn by the City Council in session last night. The action was taken on the following communication from T. W. Watson, city manager:

"In regard to ordinance providing for the establishment and operation of passenger automobile bus lines within the city of Glendale:

Number of Inquiries

"There have been a number of inquiries during the past year as to the procedure necessary to obtain permission to operate passenger bus lines within the city. We understand that this might be done either by the sale of franchises or by the issuance of permits therefor by your council as may be provided for by ordinance. The establishment of automobile passenger service connecting outlying districts with car lines and business centers would be a great convenience and possibly the time has arrived when such lines would prove a paying investment.

"I would therefore respectfully recommend that the city attorney be authorized to prepare an ordinance providing for the issuance of permits by your council for the establishment and operation of automobile bus lines within the city of Glendale and the regulation of the same."

Adjustments in Salaries

The city manager also presented a communication relative to adjustments in the salary ordinance, as follows:

"In regard to adjustments in salary ordinance made necessary in order to comply with certain provisions of city charter:

"I present herewith for your consideration ordinance revising present salary ordinance providing for salary of controller; assistant storekeeper; inspector of flood control channel; record clerks, time-keepers and laborers for lot cleaning; and a few other minor changes in Ordinance No. 447 which authorizes and fixes salaries for present fiscal year."

The ordinance was laid over to next meeting for final action.

Buying Boom Starts; Merchants Laying In Big Stocks, Reported

By PAUL R. MALLON
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 NEW YORK, July 22.—The buying boom is on.

The retailers throughout the country, staking thousands that business will take a jump in the fall, are laying in big stocks for the first time in years.

"Business is bound to take a leap upwards," Alfred Santle, buyer for large department stores from San Francisco to Boston told the United Press today.

"Garment retailers I represent are placing huge orders. The demand has taken such a sudden upward trend in the last few weeks that we have been forced to double our staff.

"It is a different kind of buying from the pre-war days. The demand is for staple goods, not frills. People are going to buy socks, underwear and shirts—not earrings and fancy vests. All they want are utilities and necessities.

"There is no doubt that the public will make a big demand for necessities in September and October. For the last few years many merchants have feared to lay in new stocks in huge quantities and have been selling what they had on hand.

"But now they are convinced that we have traversed a few more miles on that road back to normalcy, and are preparing for the rush.

"Among the two score department stores I can speak for who are among those leading the buying boom are:

"C. C. Anderson, Boise; Gulbertson, Inc., Spokane; Marks Brothers, San Francisco.

"It has been a long time coming, but now it is here.

"There is going to be a business jubilation in the fall and it's time the boys were getting on the band wagon."

F. P. Newport Company to Be Dinner Hosts

The F. P. Newport company will be host to the Associated Subdividers of Los Angeles at a dinner to be served in the Old Adobe, Verdugo Woodlands, Saturday night. It is expected that three score of the largest real estate dealers in Los Angeles will be present to enjoy the affair and make plans for promoting another buying and building boom. In addition to the realty men, representatives of the Glendale and Los Angeles newspapers will be in attendance.

In this connection it might be stated that the Verdugo Woodlands tract is the fastest-selling, high-class subdivision suburban to Los Angeles.

MOTHER SPOILED IT ALL

While I was still in school, I attended an evening party at the home of one of my girl friends, writes a correspondent of the Chicago Journal. When it was time to go, there were two fellows who wanted to take me home. I was very much flattered and accepted them both. One of the boys appealed to me strongly and I imagined myself deeply in love with him. But, as it was getting late, and my folks were worrying about me, my mother set out to meet me. When she saw me with a fellow on each arm, she was scandalized and started to scold, while the boys, very much frightened, ran away.

It takes the average man half his allotted three score and ten years to learn that he doesn't amount to very much.

With baggage consisting of two letters dealing with her father's war record, a three-year-old girl recently made a trip from her home in Glasgow, Scotland, to the home of her uncle in Swift Current, Saskatchewan, with only the kindly directions of steamship officials and trainmen to guide her.

There are 390 homesteads in Alaska, a small number compared with the opportunities.

More motorcycles are in use in London and all England than automobiles or other automotive vehicles, according to registration certificates.

into it, and the branch office, which is now located here, will be moved to Los Angeles.

Probably the prettiest of the various proposed improvements will be the two-acre plot set aside for the erection of the horticultural plant and hot houses. The main building will be constructed in the shape of a vast dome, and will contain more than 100,000 flowers, shrubs and herbs. It will be located to the right of the proposed duck pond, and will form one of the two beautiful vistas which will greet the eyes of visitors upon passing through the entrance.

The duck pond, which will be patterned after the original at the world's fair at San Francisco in 1915, will greatly add to the artistic beauty of the front of the park. It will be a cement pool surrounded by numerous rare ferns and shrubs, and in its center will be placed the famous Duck Baby statue which formerly adorned one of the beauty spots of the Golden Gate park. It is a bronze replica of the famous clay model carved by Edith Parsons, and has been purchased for a large sum by the association. The pool will be ornamented by a number of vari-colored Chinese ducks, similar to those exhibited at San Francisco.

Workmen Are Busy

A crew of workmen is already engaged in leveling off and grading the future Sentinel Hill, which the cemetery officials claim will be the most beautiful and appropriate site for Easter sunrise services in the United States. Two powerful tractors have been purchased by the owners in an effort to expedite the progress of the enterprise, which is to be completed in time for services on Easter morning of next year.

The plans for the site of the future sacred services provide for the grading of an elaborately parked winding roadway, leading to the summit of the hill, where a huge cross will be erected. This will rival the famous Mt. Rubidoux site at Riverside.

In reviewing the statistics of the Forest Lawn Memorial Park for the past year Mr. Eaton stated that more than $60,000 had been spent for wages, improvements, etc., in that period in Glendale, and that their entire force of twenty laborers are residents of this city.

The United States Weather Bureau station on the north coast of Alaska frequently reports a summer temperature of one hundred in the shade.

Proposes to Change Calendar All Around

PASADENA—Harold G. Simpson, a well-known local man, is a member of a nation-wide organization which proposes to shuffle the months of the year around in quite a reckless manner.

The organization, whose headquarters is in Washington, proposes to change the present calendar and make it over into a new one called the "Liberty Calendar"—so that it will be uniform with Liberty Bonds, Liberty Motors and Liberty Steaks.

The new Liberty calendar, which is being widely advocated by mathematicians throughout the world, including former Premier Poincaré of France, makes a number of important changes:

First: The year will be divided into months of exactly four weeks each, thus abolishing the necessity of remembering the thirty days has September, April, June and November rhyme.

Second: New Year's Day will become an independent legal holiday, not included in any week or any month.

Third: Another independent legal holiday, called "Leap Year Day," is provided for leap years. It would not occur after February, however, but between June and July. It would not be included in any week or month.

Fourth: Bravely facing the jinx of thirteen, the rest of the days would then be divided up into thirteen months of exactly four weeks each, every month commencing with Monday. Thus there are an equal number of weekdays in every year, that is, the same number of Sundays, Mondays, etc. In order to maintain this each Seventh New Year Day becomes "New Year Sunday, and each seventh Leap Year becomes "Leap Year Sunday."

Fifth: The Fourth of July, Armistice Day, and Christmas would all come out on Thursday of every year, according to the new arrangement.

Sixth: Liberty would be confined to one month. There being thirteen months in the year, a new month would be added between the present February and March. The new month would be called "Liberty," and the new roll-call would read "January, February, Liberty, March," etc.

Similar calendar changes, some of them differing in various particulars, but all designed to even up the months and make calendar calculations somewhat approximate the ease of the decimal system in the mathematical world, are being advocated by scientists here and abroad.

VARIED ASSORTMENT OF SUMMER READING ON SHELVES AT LIBRARY

Demand For Vacation Books Is Heavy And Wide
Choice Given Public; Local Contributions

Vacation time and books are always linked closely together. Anticipating the demand for summer reading a strenuous effort is being made by those in charge of the Glendale library and its South Glendale branch to get out books for vacation reading and also to be in position to give vacation privileges for those going away and to be able to advise what books to read.

Several very valuable contributions which have just been made to the library include those from Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Parker, who donated a set of Redpath's history and a set of Stoddard's lectures, and also from Dr. Henry R. Harrower and others.

New books which have been released for general distribution at the public library on Harvard street during the past week include the following volumes:

"Potterism," by Rose Macaulay. A novel of superlative cleverness. A notable story and an incisive criticism of life.

Embodiment of Joy
"Sister Sue," by Eleanor H. Porter. To the gladness of "Pollyanna," the inspiration of "Just David" and the charm of "Mary Marie," the author has added a touch that brought into being a character who will live in every reader's heart as the perfect embodiment of joy through self-sacrifice.

"The Kingdom Round the Corner," by Coningsby Dawson. It is the kind of story that plays strongly on the heart strings. The enlarged vision on life of one who served during the war.

"The Coming of the King," by Bernie Babcock. A book which has a place among the few really notable novels which have been written based on the New Testament.

"Creole Families of New Orleans," by Grace King. A story of the old families of New Orleans which came from France and Spain.

Story of Adventure
"Timber Wolves," by Bernard Cronin. An adventure story with a good mystery for its leading motive. It takes one into the big timber lands of Tasmania.

"Captain Macdoine's Daughter," by William McFee. A story of seductively fascinating people cast in a vibrant, beautiful setting of seas and sea-towns.

"Galusha the Magnificent," by Joseph C. Lincoln. A good plot, too good to be disclosed, enough romance, and lots and lots of hearty laughs.

"Modern Drama in Europe," by

DIFFICULT TO LOCATE

Knocks are very often somewhat difficult to locate in an automobile engine. Various devices have been used to locate the trouble, but as good a one as is to be had can be made in a few minutes from an old horn and a rod. All the horn but the bell and diaphragm should be removed. A screw should be placed through the diaphragm and screwed into the end of the rod. When the other end of the rod is placed against the engine the knock can be heard very plainly in the bell. By removing the rod to different points on the cylinder block or crankcase the exact location of the trouble can be discovered.

A Tokio cablegram says that many old men in Japan are flocking to the Imperial university in quest of the "elixir of youth." The university claims that goat gland treatments are successful.

ADVERTISING SURELY PAYS

For the purpose of calling to the attention of tourists driving through Connecticut there are nine large signs 50 feet long and 15 feet high located on the most important highways leading into the state. The gigantic boards illustrate in plain letters a digest of the state laws concerning automobiles, and after sundown they are illuminated by electric light so that it is almost impossible to pass without observing the rules.

FRANCE ALTERS ROAD LAW

In France barnyard stock no longer will have the right of way on roads, according to a decree issued by President Millerand. Motorists, in the past, were required to pay twice the value of stock killed or injured, regardless of whether the driver of the machine was at fault or not.

CHURCH WELCOMES NEW MEMBERS AT RECEPTION

Presbyterians Greet Recent Additions to 'Family' at Gathering Last Night

The forty-one new members received into the First Presbyterian church last Sunday were the guests of honor at a reception given at the church last night under the chairmanship of Mrs. James A. Newton. A social hour was first enjoyed, followed by an interesting program with Perry E. Maxwell in the chair announcing the numbers and introducing the speakers.

The following program was given: Social and musical guessing game, conducted by Mrs. Glenn Porter and Mrs. Perry E. Maxwell; address of welcome, by R. T. Lyons; response, by Mr. Sargeant; piano duet, double number, by Mrs. MacMillen and Mrs. Clifford Riggs; reading, by J. F. Reynolds; piano solo, Miss Elizabeth Mottern; remarks, Rev. Louis Tinning; reading, J. F. Reynolds; vocal solo, Miss Elizabeth Mottern.

Following this enjoyable program refreshments of ice-cream and cake were served, after which the guests departed, feeling more closely drawn to each other for the evening spent in social intercourse and good fellowship.

England's Peace Offer Is Taken to Ireland

By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
LONDON, July 22.—"President" De Valera carried Great Britain's peace offer to Ireland today.

"Although the immediate future is uncertain," he told a cheering crowd which bade him farewell at a railway station here, "we have perfect confidence in the ultimate success of our cause."

De Valera's train left at 7:30 a. m., but the early hour did not deter hundreds of Irish enthusiasts from crowding the platform at which the train stood. The smoky aisles were massed with men and women under a forest of Sinn Fein flags and self-determination banners.

"A just cause is bound to win," De Valera said. "It may take some time to achieve our ends, but success will certainly be ours in the end."

De Valera's party included Arthur Griffith, president of the Sinn Fein, Count Plunkett, Desmond Fitzgerald, Richard Barton, Alderman O'Neil and the mayor of Dublin.

The Sinn Fein leaders left the peace situation distinctly pessimistic, although it was regarded as almost certain that the conferences with Premier Lloyd George will be resumed within a fortnight.

The Sinn Feiners were greatly disappointed at the terms offered by the premier. They regarded the proposals as indefinite and unsatisfactory. If the offer is the maximum, it was learned authoritatively, the conferences will end without the waste of much time. The Sinn Feiners, however, do not believe that the government will refuse to clarify the proposals. Likewise, because of the government's preparedness, the Irish believe a breaking off of negotiations would be more to Lloyd George's advantage than to Sinn Fein's. Lloyd George's offer, which was not specific, left De Valera and his aides ignorant of the degree of home rule which will be offered Ireland. They hold that the most vital of all questions.

GETTING IN WRONG

The odds are 200 to 2 that the senators will say that Sims is the most popular barber in the senate barber shop. Sims has the cream of the senate trade and he has been in the senate barber shop longer than anyone knows. He has become expert not only on shaving and cutting hair and massaging, but on political matters as well.

When Mr. Harding was still a member of the senate he came in for Sims to do a little face work on him. Sims began shortly after the then senator took the chair, to talk about the dire effect on the senate of the constitutional amendment providing for direct election of its members.

"Why this direct election is sure a bad thing," said Sims in Mr. Harding's ear. "Why the men who are here can't be compared with the men who were here twenty years ago."

Just about this time it dawned on Sims what he was saying and to whom he was saying it.

Probably his conscience was stung by the fact that Mr. Harding's face was getting redder and redder as he tried to suppress his laughter. "Oh, 'deed, senator," said the stricken Sims. "I was jest speakin' genually. I didn't mean nothin' personal about it."

The juices of clover and alfalfa are aiding to destroy the tuberculosis germ, according to the American Institute of Homeopathy. Use of the grass juices has aided in fights against the disease in the treatment of former service men at the Alpine sanatorium. The treatment calls for well-selected food, the utilization of rays, energies and vibrations, and for surroundings of a cheerful nature.

From Prison Cell to High College Honors

NEW YORK—One of the high honor students graduated from Columbia university this summer was Frank Tannenbaum, whose notions of the world reform have been somewhat modified by his experience as a soldier, and are far milder than when he was one of the leaders of the turbulent mobs that invaded the churches in this city in 1914. The ideas that he held then earned him a year in the penitentiary on Blackwell island. The ideas that he has now have won him a degree and election to Phi Beta Kappa, highest honors in economics and history at Columbia and promise to make him an author of outstanding distinction in his chosen field—organized labor in America.

For Tannenbaum, though only twenty-seven years old, is the author of what is said to be an extremely important book, "The labor movement."

Tannenbaum's entire boyhood education consisted of eight months in a New England rural school. That was in his twelfth year. When he was thirteen he came to New York and for the next eight years worked at all sorts of jobs from waiter in a restaurant to elevator boy. When he was twenty-one he went to Blackwell Island for a year for I. W. W. activities.

He emerged from prison convinced of the necessity of an education. He contrived to get into Columbia, and left it with a $2000 fellowship for industrial research work. Ultimately, he says, he intends to return to work in the railroad shops.

A corps of confidential clerks opens the president's mail and such communications as the president ought to see are briefed and a writer's name are pinned to each letter. Requests for charity are so numerous that a special "form" is used in replying. Letters from persons on the same subject are bunched and the arguments pro and con are briefed.

Adoption Of Uniform Classification Urged

LIVERPOOL—Adoption of uniform classification of cotton for the world was urged before the world's cotton conference by W. R. Meadows, a member of the delegation representing the United States, who has charge of the cotton division of the American agricultural department.

"Universal standards would not only simplify methods of handling cotton, but would tend to higher standards of ethics in the cotton business," said Mr. Meadows.

J. H. Ziegler of Liverpool said that a uniform set of standards for the world was desirable, but that there were difficulties attending the adoption of such standards which perhaps have not presented themselves. The merit of the Liverpool standards was that they were time-honored, he declared, and he did not believe they had ever been altered. He said he would be loath to see any change made in the Liverpool standards. It was decided to refer the matter of standards to a committee.

Giorgis Mylius of the Italian Cotton association complained that American bankers demanded too heavy security. He thought the signatures of the Italian spinner and Italian banker should be enough, but in some cases, he asserted, American bankers demanded a profit on exchange also. R. S. Hecht of the Hibernia Bank and Trust company of New Orleans said that what worried the average American banker was the political risk, and the American banker required as much protection as he could get.

TO FIND LEVEL OF OIL

In many motors the pet cocks used for determining the level of the oil are placed in inaccessible locations under the engine. By sawing a slit in the end of a broom handle and wrapping the lower end with tape, so that the opener will not spread, a very convenient opener for these pet cocks is had, relieving the car owner of the need for crawling under the car to determine the level of the oil in the crankcase.

A 16-horsepower passenger automobile in Germany costs 100,000 marks or more.
